START LAST CUT OF CITY BUDGET; DOOM EXPERTS

Hesitate on Money for Personal Autos.

The council finance committee last night started to go over the proposed 1930 budget for the last time before its adoption. In a three hour session the members covered seven of the thirty-six pages of items and slashed $261,000 off the 1929 appropriations. When the last page is turned the aldermen hope to have a cut total of $1,000,000. But during the afternoon they had heard requests from twenty delegations for $4,500,000 in salary raises.

The specific number of jobs that the aldermen eliminated at the night session could not be determined as they had not reached the departments where jobs are listed with titles and salaries. Most of the savings were made by slashing off lump sums spent by council committees on experts, paid on a per diem basis ranging from $20 to $100 a day.

The proceedings moved smoothly through the first department, the mayor's office, where $1,000 was cut from the sum for maintenance of automobiles and employment of chauffeurs. But there was hesitation when the aldermen considered the appropriation which comes closest to themselves.

Each alderman is allowed $60 a month for the upkeep of his personally owned automobile and its first work on the budget, with a determination to pare all amounts to the bone, the committee had left out this item of $5,280. Ald. George M. Maypole (28th) moved to give back this amount to the fifty councilmen.

Little discussion was developed, but the roll call showed the following vote:

AYES:
Anderson (28th) J. B. Fowler (28th)
Crommon (15th) Smith (28th)
Gurnea (15th) Nelson (28th)
Maypole (28th)

NAYS:
McDonough (15th) D. A. Moore (28th)
Byrne (15th) Arvey (28th)
Hesse (15th) Crowe (28th)

The aldermen by the vote retained their automobile maintenance but employees of the city hall, who use cars in their work, had been severed from theirs by earlier action. The victory was short lived, as Ald. Gurnea had the action reconsidered and action deferred.

Cut Off Group Fund.
Observers of the committee's action speculated on the motives which prompted it. Some thought the aldermen had shied from the criticism which might have been heaped upon them if they cut 1,483 policemen and 378 firemen from the budget, but looked after their own interests in better fashion.

The largest cut was made in the sum allotted to Ald. Arvey's committee on gas, oil and electric light. His appropriation for 1929 was $258,500, which was reduced to $150,000 for next year. Other committees and the city clerk's office were treated to cuts ranging from a few hundred dollars to nearly $50,000.

Several committees escaped either without a cut or with an increase in appropriation. The most prominent of these was the committee on conventions, which was brought into existence last year and given a $1,000 appropriation. This had been tentatively cut to $500, but returned to the original $1,000 during the evening.

The delegations asking raises in salary at the afternoon session represented nearly every class of employee in the city hall. The policemen and firemen came first and following them were janitors, clerks, hostlers, chauffeurs, scrubwomen, coal passers, and bakers. The amount of increases asked totaled $4,500,000, and the requests were taken under advisement by the committee.

Freezes Police Department.
"The courage and efficiency of the police department is equal to any in the country and each policeman stands ready to make the supreme sacrifice to maintain law and order," said Fred

Begin Selling 1930 License Tags

Tags Put on Sale

The plea of City Collector Miller for owners of wagons, motorcycles, and automobiles to buy their vehicle tags early to avoid the usual rush after the first of the year was heeded yesterday by several hundred persons who appeared for their 1930 tags. Yesterday was the first day that the tags were put on sale, but little buying was expected until after Christmas and his shopping had been passed.

Loth, president of the Patrolmen's association. He asked for an increase from $2,500 to $3,000 a year for 4,500 policemen.

Commissioner of Police Russell through the secretary of the department, Col. Philip R. Crippen, informed the committee's financial staff that he cannot reduce his force. Russell had been asked by the committee to prepare a setup costing $2,600,000 less than this year.

"The excessive upkeep of our old automobiles and motorcycles, which we cannot replace next year because of the budget cut, will force the police department to dip into other accounts to keep them in running condition," Col. Crippen reported. "As the finance committee failed to provide enough out for all the horses of the traffic division the number has been reduced from 111 to 13 rather than let them starve. A saving of $10,000 can be made in passenger transportation, but none in the number of policemen," Crippen said.

FISCAL RESCUERS ASK OFFICIALS FOR SHOWDOWN

Strawn Committee Wants Definite Requests.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.
The executive committee of the public finance "rescue" organization met yesterday noon, conferred for two hours, and then issued a statement, of which one paragraph reads:

"It was also the consensus that while some of the public officials have expressed an earnest desire that this committee lend its assistance in working out the difficult financial problem now confronting these officials, our committee, as such, has not received any specific request to that end."

Wants Diagnosis First.
"We should like to know exactly what the governmental ills are before we attempt to prescribe remedies," Silas H. Strawn, who has been selected as chairman of the executive committee, added orally.

To the rescuers' original public officials are said to have presented a depressing picture of the financial difficulties under which they were laboring. That was several days ago. Recently J. Louis Jacob, efficiency expert of the county board, was quoted as saying that the county would be able to work its own way out of its financial troubles.

President Anton J. Cermak of the county board will be asked by letter from Mr. Strawn today to say whether he has any requests or suggestions to the committee.

Berlin Faces Bankruptcy on Public Ownership Plans; U. S. Loan Halts

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

[Chicago Tribune From Service.]
BERLIN, Dec. 16.—Berlin, Germany's capital, which the Socialists and communists are slowly trying to turn into a vast, public owned enterprise, was declared tonight to be on the verge of bankruptcy.

The American firm of Dillon, Read & Co. agreed to make a loan of $15,000,000, with some of Berlin's plants as security, but Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, president of the Reichsbank, and the federal advisory commission, which controls German loans abroad, refused to O. K. the deal. Germany's financial chief feels such a loan would only encourage the Socialist majority of Berlin's town fathers to indulge in new socialization experiments.

To carry out their dream of public ownership of plants and abolition of private property, Berlin's city fathers acquired control of 354 enterprises, ranging from power plants, gas works, street cars, subways, and grand opera to a modern picture studio, dairies, farms, forests, a big scale real estate firm, and a cloak and suit enterprise.

Free Firms of Taxes.
Seventy-six of these city companies are million dollar concerns. To enable them to compete with private enterprises the city fathers equipped them with lavish prerogatives and freed them from the obligation to pay taxes, with few exceptions. The best money makers among the town's enterprises in a generous moment agreed to pay the city a total of $130 per year.

German business men have protested violently against the unfair competition of city-owned plants while they are being hampered by the heavy taxation imposed on them.

Meanwhile Dr. Schacht has worked out a plan through which Berlin will be able to bring its finances back to a sound footing if it cuts out some of the municipal ownership experiments, and increases the price of gas, electricity, and cars to the consumer.

Parties Attack Schacht.
The Socialists and communists, who that Dr. Schacht is acting on political reasons and trying to bring Berlin's finances in order to be able to claim a financial disaster and out the militant reds from the city financial administration.

Dr. Schacht called on President von Hindenburg to report on the financial squabbles. Though no communique was issued about the conference, it is believed that the president, who has since he, too, is a stern supporter of the rule of iron economy.

JAPAN TO ASK BIG INCREASE IN SUBMARINE

And Envoy Kills. Pre 'No Battleship' Dream

[Chicago Tribune From Service.]
Washington, D. C., Dec. 16.—(Special.)—Abolition of battleships, submarines will not be accomplished at the forthcoming five power conference in London.

Two leading members of the Japanese naval delegation, arriving in Washington for conference with American officials, made it plain today when they stated that Japan insist on retaining submarines as battleships among its fighting vessels.

Besides wrecking the hopes of the world's navies, former Premier Kato, head of the Japanese delegation to the London conference, said another new light on the attitude of Japan toward the problem of naval armament reduction and limitation.

Want More Submarines.
He revealed during the course of conference with newspaper men that Japan wants a modified form of tonnage for auxiliary craft which would insure its navy 70 per cent the number of big gun cruisers as maintained by the United States, and at the same time give it a heavier tonnage of submarines than it possessed Japan would ask for.

Statements made by the Japanese delegation indicates Japan advocates an actual reduction in total navy armaments in the category of battleships, and a ratio for auxiliary vessels such as destroyers, submarines, cruisers, which would allow Japan maintain seven tons of auxiliary vessels for every ten tons allotted Great Britain and the United States.

This 10-7 ratio would be larger than the 10-6 or 5-3 ratio adopted for ships at the Washington conference.

Wants Flexible Figure.
Japan, however, suggests that a nation be allowed some flexibility in determining the tonnage it will limit in each category. Japan wants a percentage in submarines that destroyers. To gain this she proposes that she raise the ratio for submarines and lower the ratio for destroyers or cruisers.

Thus Japan might have a 10-9 ratio in submarines, and a 10-5 ratio for destroyers, and at the same time for the average 10-7 ratio for the tonnage of auxiliary craft.

The Japanese desire for a larger marine tonnage is certain to encounter American opposition and it is not unlikely that the Japanese will be stumbling blocks at London. Great Britain and the United States are ready to abolish the submarine if other powers will follow France wants to retain it, while Italian position has not been stated. Japan says the submarine is a naval weapon primarily and it is retained.

Received by Hoover.
The Japanese delegation was met at the Union station this morning by Secretary of State Henry Stimson and taken immediately to the Japanese embassy, where headquarters will be maintained until the gates leave for New York Thursday.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon Kato, the Japanese ambassador, accompanied by former Premier Waki and Admiral Takarabe, met the delegation, and they were taken to the White House where they were officially welcomed by President Hoover. From the White House the delegation went to the state department, where a short call was paid Col. Stimson.

The Japanese delegates will have opportunity tomorrow afternoon to change views on naval reduction matters with Col. Stimson and other members of the American group who will go to London.

Gratification for the cordial welcome accorded the Japanese delegation throughout the United States was expressed by Mr. Wakatsuki in a statement issued at a conference with the press this afternoon. "It is expected," Mr. Wakatsuki said, "that the participating powers coming to the London conference with an open mind, respecting the other full faith and confidence the justice and fairness of the cooperative international policies."

Calls Outlook Belligerent.
"There is therefore every reason for us to be optimistic as to the result. The termination of competitive armaments and a positive reduction of naval strength may, we believe, be looked for as the outcome."

Japan advocates scaling down the armaments of the participating powers and she herself stands ready to do so. Her naval strength, she says, is not without reason. It is not a policy of keeping undisturbed a state of national security of people.

No Warfare Designs.
"Japan is prepared to accept that it is less than parity with other great powers, and so gives thought of the entire absence of thought of offensive operations."

In response to other questions, Wakatsuki said Japan would accept 70 per cent of the number of cruisers allotted the United States whether this figure was eight, twenty-one. He said that while ships might be abolished some time was premature for abolishing this type of ship from the fleets of the world. He smiled at the idea of eliminating the submarine.

JAPAN TO ASK BIG INCREASE IN SUBMARINES

And Envoy Kills, Pretty
'No Battleship' Dream.

(Chicago Tribune From Service.)

Washington, D. C., Dec. 16.—(Special.)—Abolition of battleships and submarines will not be accomplished at the forthcoming five power naval conference in London.

Two leading members of the Japanese naval delegation, arriving in Washington for conference with American officials, made this clear today when they stated that Japan will not give up retaining submarines and battleships among its fighting vessels. Besides wrecking the hopes of pacifists that the battleship and the submarine could be eliminated from the world's navies, former Premier Reijiro Wakatsuki, head of the Japanese delegation in the London conference, made another important disclosure throwing light on the attitude of Japan toward the problem of naval armament reduction and limitation.

He wanted during the course of a conference with newspaper men that Japan wants a modified form of global tonnage for auxiliary craft which would insure its navy 70 per cent of the number of big gun cruisers maintained by the United States, and at the same time give it a heavier percentage of submarines than it is possessed by Japan. Japan advocates a reduction in total navy tonnage, retention of the battleship and submarine in the categories of fighting ships, and a ratio for auxiliary ships, such as destroyers, submarines, and cruisers, which would allow Japan to maintain seven tons of auxiliary tonnage for every ten tons allotted to Great Britain and the United States. This 10-7 ratio would be larger than the 10-8 or 10-9 ratio adopted for battleships at the Washington conference.

Wants Flexible Figure. Japan, however, suggests that each nation be allowed some flexibility in determining the tonnage it will build in each category. Japan wants a big percentage in submarines than in destroyers. To gain this end she proposes that she raise the ratio for submarines and lower the ratio for other destroyers or cruisers. Thus, Japan might have a 10-9 ratio in submarines, a 10-7 for destroyers, and a 10-5 for cruisers, and at the same time have an average 10-7 ratio for the total tonnage of auxiliary craft. The Japanese desire for a larger submarine total is certain to encounter American opposition and it is believed that Japan may furnish one of the major stumbling blocks at London. Both Great Britain and the United States are ready to accept the submarine if other powers will do likewise. France wants to retain it, while the Italian position has not been stated. Japan says the submarine is a destroyer's weapon primarily and insists it be retained.

Received by Hoover. The Japanese delegation was welcomed at the Union station this morning by Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson and taken immediately to the Japanese embassy, where headquarters will be maintained until the delegates leave for New York Thursday. At 1 o'clock this afternoon Katsujirō Doihara, the Japanese ambassador, accompanied by former Premier Wakatsuki and Admiral Takaue, minister of marine, the two delegates, motored to the White House, where they were officially welcomed by President Hoover. From the White House the Japanese party went to the state department, where a short call was paid on Col. Stimson.

The Japanese delegates will have an opportunity tomorrow afternoon to exchange views on naval reduction matters with Col. Stimson and other members of the American group which will go to London. Discussion for the cordial welcome accorded the Japanese delegates throughout the United States was expressed by Mr. Wakatsuki in a formal statement issued at a conference with the press this afternoon. "It is expected," Mr. Wakatsuki said, "that the participating powers will bring to the London conference with an open mind, respecting each in its own full faith and confidence in the justice and fairness of their respective international policies."

Calls Outlook sanguine. There is therefore every reason for us to be sanguine as to the result. The termination of competitive armaments and a positive reduction in naval strength may, we believe, be secured for the outcome. Japan advocates retention of the submarine and also herself stands ready to reduce her naval strength proportionately. It goes without saying that, in all things, she has to bear in mind the necessity of keeping undisturbed the peace of national security of the world.

No Warlike Designs. Japan is prepared to accept a reduction in her navy to parity with the other great powers, and so gives clear proof of the entire absence of any designs of offensive operations. Mr. Stimson said Japan would ask for 70 per cent of the number of big gun cruisers the United States maintains. This figure was eighteen or twenty per cent. He said that while the submarine might be abolished some day, it was premature for eliminating the type of ship from the battle line of the world. He smiled at the idea of eliminating the submarine.

NEW MASTERS IN CHANCERY ARE SWORN IN

LEONARDO, STATE SENATOR, PLACED ON TRIAL ALONE

Co-Defendant Given Separate Hearing.

State Senator James Leonardo of the Twentieth ward, although indicted jointly with two other politicians for conspiracy to obstruct justice, found himself alone yesterday facing a jury in Judge Harry B. Miller's Criminal court. The state's attorney's office elected to try the senator by himself rather than with his co-defendants, both of them members of a different Republican faction, although it is charged that they set aside political differences at the time to try and thwart justice.

The reason for the separate trial given to Frederick Heiser, a printer and a minor south side political figure, remained somewhat of a mystery. The state's attorney's office said that some weeks ago Judge McGorty ruled that Heiser should be given a separate trial although no official court record was made of the order. Judge McGorty said that when the case was before him he informed the attorneys that before trial he would hear evidence to determine whether Heiser was entitled to a separate trial. In the meantime the case was shifted around in the reassignment of cases. The prosecutors yesterday agreed to the Heiser separate trial motion, saying they were doing so because of Judge McGorty's previous ruling which the judge said he did not make. Paul Harders, Densen, precinct captain of the 17th precinct of the Ninth ward, the third defendant, has turned state's evidence and yesterday took the witness stand. He is to tell how Leonardo approached him to go to a neighbor and ask him to vote favorably in the cause of the Ellertses, who were on trial at the time in the court of the late Judge Comerford. He had just started to testify as court adjourned for the day.

Heiser, who will not be a state witness, according to the prosecutors, was the go-between in the deal. He was a friend of Harders and arranged

Refuse to Extradite Man for Halting Payment on Check

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 16.—Gov. Harry G. Leslie today refused to grant extradition papers for the removal of Larry H. Harris of Lafayette, former salesman for the Troquois Auto Insurance Underwriters, to Danville, Ill., for trial on an indictment charging operation of a confidence game. Counsel brought out that the charge centers on stopping of payment on a check. Gov. Leslie held that the case was beyond his jurisdiction, and that the offense as described did not constitute an offense under Indiana laws. The governor advised representatives of the company to seek trial in Lafayette.

AS a mark of respect to our late Vice President, A. G. Peine, our entire establishment will be closed all day Wednesday, December 18th, the day of his funeral.

GRAND JURORS REOPEN CIVIL SERVICE QUIZ

State Pledges Action
Within a Week.

The investigation into civil service commission activities was reopened yesterday before the grand jury by Assistant State's Attorney George Lavin. He promised that before the week ends the jury will have taken definite action one way or another. The prosecutor said he feels that he has sufficient evidence, if the jury agrees with him, to vote indictments against one former official and several others now in office.

Twelve Policemen Testify. Twelve policemen testified yesterday as to their reinstatement. Most of the witnesses were men put back to work by the old commission without compliance with civil service laws, the prosecutor said.

The law requires that any one dismissed must file a reinstatement petition within a limited period. In many cases petitions were not filed for months or even years after the discharge order and in some cases no petitions are on record, it is charged. Most of those put back to work said they were referred to some lawyer or political power, and after the payment of a fee, were reinstated.

Heard on Houston. Prosecutor Lavin declined to say whether he would call Thomas D. Houston, former civil service commission president, Edward J. Denemark and Bishop Archibald Carey, the other commissioners of the old board. If they are called it will be only under an immunity waiver, the prosecutor said.

The witnesses yesterday were Police Officer Michael Whitty of Des Plaines street; Michael Purdon of Fillmore street; Harry Miller, Martin Haley and John Rosa of the detective bureau; William Kaplanaki of Hudson avenue; Walter Prill of Rogers Park; Frank Grabowski of West North avenue; Daniel Most of Englewood; Patrick J. INJURY IN FREAK CRASH OF AUTOS FATAL TO GIRL, 18

Struck Down on Sidewalk
After Cars Collide.

Miss Janet Myers, 18 years old, 7249 South Union avenue, died in the Jackson Park hospital yesterday after a blood transfusion failed to induce a rally from injuries received in a freak auto accident Sunday night. Her brother, Carlisle Myers Jr., volunteered his blood for the transfusion performed by three doctors, friends of her father, Dr. Carlisle Myers. Miss Myers was standing at 71st street and Stony Island avenue with a companion, Miss Margaret Murphy, 17 years old, 1485 South Union avenue. An auto driven by John Holbrook, 22, 7215 Euclid avenue, who was one of the eight Chicago youths with the John Hordor-Field museum racing expedition to the north in 1927, collided with another machine driven by Arthur Palermo, 30, 9115 Doherty avenue. Palermo was accompanied by Michael Lagudis, 30, 214 East 11th street.

One of the cars rolled onto the sidewalk, striking Miss Myers. She was taken to the Jackson Park hospital, suffering fractures of the left leg and of the skull. Dr. Philip Holmes, a classmate of Dr. Myers, and Dr. Barton J. Simpson and Fred Leeman performed the transfusion in the hope that it would give her strength to bear the shock of an operation. After an all night vigil Miss Myers died. Palermo was held to the grand jury on a charge of manslaughter by a coroner's jury.

Miss Myers' death and four others ruled the 1929 Cook county motor toll to 97¢. The victims:

Harold Bergstedt, 16 years old, 8023 Madison avenue. Died in her home of injuries received Sunday night when the automobile in which she was riding with her father collided with another car at 85th street and Yates avenue. She was apparently uninjured in the crash and did not show ill effects until shortly before her death.

Harverson Jones, 25 years old, colored, 2923 Indiana avenue, died of injuries received Sunday night when a motorcycle on which he was riding collided with a taxicab at 49th street and South Park way.

Nels Christensen, 61 years old, 10440 South Michigan avenue, died last night at the Midgewater hospital of injuries received on Dec. 6, when he was struck by a cab at Broadway and Belmont avenue. Robert Chenoweth, 24 years old, 1608 Morse avenue, was the driver.

Unidentified man, about 40 years old, died in the Keystone hospital after he had been struck by an automobile driven by Walter Siedel, 3414 North Austin avenue, at Grand avenue and Mason street.

FUGITIVE TELLS
AND NAMES AIDS

Benton, Ill., Dec. 16.—(Special).—David Mawhood, alias George Wilson, aged 41, who confessed here last night that he escaped from the state penitentiary at Jackson, Mich., nine years ago, told of a series of robberies in southern Illinois towns.

With Fred Urbain of Benton and Paul Edwards he burglarized the general store of Stanley Rice here early this year, he said, taking the loot to Urbain's home and then disposing of it in nearby towns. Mawhood also stated that he, a man named Polly, and Edwards early this year robbed a store at Vandalia. He also said that he and Urbain and Edwards robbed a tailor shop and barbers stand in Danville.

The last he heard of Edwards, Mawhood said, he was in jail at Paris, Ill., on a robbery charge. Mawhood is a brother-in-law of Urbain.

PROBATE COURT INCOME IN 1929 BOOSTED $21,905

The Probate court collected a total of $231,991 in the fiscal year of 1929 as compared with $208,877 in the previous year, according to a report made to the county board yesterday by Probate Court Clerk Mitchell C. Robin. The report shows an increase in income above all expenditures of $21,905 in the last year as compared with 1928.

This year 10,289 cases were docketed as compared with 9,918 in 1928. In the same period 1,903 cases were settled, against 1,445 in 1928. The increase is proportionate in the number of inventories filed, letters of administration issued and other documents approved.

Howell, who has opposed all of the funding agreements, in opposition. On the final roll call, the 13 who voted in the affirmative included 37 Republicans and 16 Democrats, while the 21 against included 9 Republicans and 12 Democrats.

Recorded against the settlement were Senators John J. Blaine and Robert M. La Follette (Wis.), William E. Borah (Idaho), L. J. Frasier and G. P. Nye (N. D.), George W. Norris and R. B. Howell (Neb.), W. H. McMaster (S. D.), and Henry D. Hatfield (W. Va.), Republicans, and Charles McNamara (Ill.), Democrat.

It was whether in the recent series of senate actions in which Democratic coalition leaders have joined forces with regular Republicans, breaking away from the radicals who almost invariably are found on the anti-administration side.

Senator Howell, in opposing the settlement figured that the $4,800,000,000 to be paid by France over a period of 62 years represents, if divided into equal annual installments interest of 2.17 per cent on the original principal and accrued interest as of June 15, 1925, which he computed at $4,231,000,000.

"The American people today are paying $169,340,000 interest on the money owed us by France," said Senator Howell. "France will help us to pay that interest over a 62 year period to the extent of $91,511,000 annually. At the end of the 62 years,

New York, Dec. 16.—(AP)—Allen G. Straight, head of the secret service in New York, today revealed that a number of spurious notes of new federal reserve $100 denomination are being circulated throughout the country, especially in cities along the Atlantic and Pacific coasts.

France will be relieved of further payment and the entire principal is cancelled.

Says U. S. Will Pay.

"The twelve debts which have now been settled will involve nearly twelve billion dollars. Every debt is cancelled and all we receive is 1.64 per cent in interest for 62 years. If the American people haven't paid the debt at the end of that time they will have to go down into their pockets to pay it."

Senator Smoot denied that the settlements represented a cancellation of principal.

Whiting Mayor Resigns; Controller Takes Place

Mayor Walter E. Schrage of Whiting, Ind., resigned yesterday and Francis McNamara, who on Friday was appointed city controller by Mayor Schrage, was sworn in to fill his place. McNamara, Republican candidate for mayor in the November election, lost by seven votes to Thomas Boyle. In the recount McNamara was adjudged the winner by three votes. McNamara, acting mayor, will serve until Jan. 1. Meanwhile Boyle plans an appeal to the courts.

NOTED SCHOLARS AT DEDICATION OF U. OF C. BUILDINGS

The new social science building of the University of Chicago and the George Herbert Jones laboratory for chemical research were formally dedicated yesterday at ceremonies in which educators from America and several foreign countries took part. The chemical laboratory, which was built at a cost of $445,000, was presented to the university by Mr. Jones, former president of the board of the Inland Steel company, and accepted by President Hutchins.

The program included the presentation of busts of Mr. Nelson, the late John U. Nef, formerly of the university faculty; the late Alexander W. Smith, and Julius Stieglitz, chairman of the department of chemistry. Speakers at the afternoon program were Dr. G. N. Lewis of the University of California, Dr. C. E. MacDowell, president of the Armour Fertilizer works, and Dr. Edward R. Weidell, director of the Mellon Institute.

Vice President Frederic Woodward presided at the dedication of the social science building. President Hutchins, Wesley C. Mitchell, professor of economics at Columbia university, and Albrecht Mendelssohn Bartholdy, professor of comparative jurisprudence at the University of Hamburg were speakers. John C. Merriam, president of the Carnegie Institution; Milton C. Wintermiller, dean of the Yale medical school, and Sir William Beveridge, director of the London School of Economics, also spoke.

J. O. C. HUTCHINS TAKES CHARGE AS C. A. A. MANAGER

J. O. Conway Hutchins, recently manager of the Hotel Ambassador, took over the general management of the Chicago Athletic Association yesterday. He succeeded Fred M. Greeby, who resigned a month ago.

Candidates nominated for officers of the athletic association by the nominating committee on Saturday and announced yesterday are James G. Barabux, president; J. Mayor Less, vice president; Thomas H. Hennessy, secretary, and Harry N. Grot, treasurer. Candidates for directorships to serve three year terms are Frederick D. Corley, William M. Dewey, Avery Brundage, James B. Westcott, and Alex. J. McKay, while Dr. William W. Mayo was nominated for a one-year term. The officers are to be elected on Jan. 25.

REVISE TRANSIT SETTLEMENT ON CAR EXTENSIONS

Attorneys and engineers for the council legal transportation committee yesterday began to revise the provision of the transit settlement arbitration covering extensions. A subcommittee which read the ordinance draft last week discovered that there is no provision by which the city can compel the car companies to make extensions and set John G. Drennan, assistant corporation counsel, and R. F. Kellner, consulting engineer, to work to strengthen the city's powers. In the negotiations preceding the drafting of a portion of an ordinance, the car companies insisted that the laying of extensions should be dependent upon their ability to raise money for that purpose.

9 JURORS PICKED TO TRY ARKANSAS 'TORCH' SLAYER

Alleged Victim Insists
Is Still Alive.

Mountain View, Ark., Dec. 16.—While a grand jury sought to establish the identity of a man who made his way to the reported murder scene, selection of a jury was made in Circuit court today for the trial of four of five men charged with the killing of Connie Franklin.

When court recessed, nine had been accepted by both sides. Forty veniremen had been questioned. The original panel was exhausted. An additional panel of ten was summoned to appear tomorrow. Only four of the men are tried. The other, Alex. Fulton, is in a separate indictment and is held in connection with the case. It is said to be different from that of others—Herman Greenway, Joe V. Hubert Hester, and Bill Younger.

Quizzed for Two Hours.

The grand jury, reconvening yesterday with the court, called out the man who insists he is Connie Franklin. For two hours he was questioned by the grand jury. Prosecuting Attorney Hugh W. Wren. Later in the day the grand jury called Franklin again, but he was in the room only a few minutes.

Following this, by agreement with the court, called for examination of the purported Franklin. It was made to establish if he was the man who was the state prisoner with a dental chart taken from the hospital records and he is shown on the right side as shown the record of M. Franklin. The state hospital received a letter from a man signing himself M. Connie Franklin from St. James, Mo. The time the man who says Connie Franklin was there. It was the writer had been an inmate of the hospital and was described by hospital officials as the "raving a crazy man."

Mother Arrives on Scene.

The man claiming to be the Franklin was reunited tonight his mother, Mrs. Lily Baker. She not only, however, to throw any on the question of whether he was the same man who disappeared from the St. James community here nine months ago resulted in murder indictments.

Mrs. Baker, who came from home near Clarendon, Ark., to the "mystery man" as he is called, she had not seen him since last Christmas, when he spent a few days at home. She revealed that his name was not Connie Franklin, but it was Franklin Rogers. He is married, has three children, but he is not the man who disappeared.

9 JURORS PICKED TO TRY ARKANSAS 'TORCH' SLAYERS

Alleged Victim Insists He Is Still Alive.

Mountain View, Ark., Dec. 16.—(AP)—While a grand jury sought to establish the identity of a man who confessed he is the reputed murder victim, selection of a jury was started in Circuit court today for the trial of four of five men charged with killing Connie Franklin.

When court recessed, nine jurors had been accepted by both sides and forty veniremen had been questioned. The original panel was exhausted and an additional panel of ten was ordered summoned to appear tomorrow. Only four of the men are being tried. The other, Alex Fultz, is named to a separate indictment and his alleged connection with the case was said to be different from that of the others—Herman Greenway, Joe White, Robert Hester, and Bill Younger.

Called for Two Hours.

The grand jury, reconvening simultaneously with the court, called before it the man who insists he is Franklin. For two hours he was questioned by the grand jury and prosecuting Attorney Hugh Williams. Later in the day the grand jury called Franklin again, but he was in the room only a few minutes.

Following this, by agreement of prosecution and defense counsel, an examination of the purported Franklin was made to establish if possible whether he was the M. Franklin, who was an inmate of the state hospital for nervous diseases. His teeth compared with a dental chart taken from his hospital records and he has a mark on the right side as shown in record of M. Franklin. The record, however, showed the hospital inmate had a mark on the right side whereas this man has one on the left.

The Connie Franklin, reported murdered and burned to death on March 1, has not been definitely identified as the former asylum inmate. However, the state hospital received a letter from a man signing himself Marion Connie Franklin from St. James at the time the man who says he is Connie Franklin was there. It indicated the writer had been an inmate of the hospital and was described by hospital officials as the "ravings of a mad man."

Mother Arrives on Scene.

The man claiming to be the slain Franklin was released tonight with his mother, Mrs. Lily Baker. She was not able, however, to throw any light on the question of whether he was the same man whose disappearance from the St. James community near here five months ago resulted in the murder indictment.

Mrs. Baker, who came from her home near Clendenon, Ark., to identify the "murder man" as her son, said she had not seen him since last Christmas, when he spent a few days at her home. She revealed that his name is not Connie Franklin, but is Marion Franklin Rogers. He is married and has three children, but he and his

$551,013 INCOME TAX REFUND IS ASKED BY DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS

Washington, D. C., Dec. 16.—(AP)—Refund of $551,013 in income taxes was sought by Douglas Fairbanks today in a petition filed with the Court of Claims.

The screen actor asked return of $222,264 for 1918 and $318,749 for 1919, with accumulated interest.

He contended the Douglas Fairbanks Pictures corporation was given the wrong classification by the government, bringing about the overassessment.

4 Women Lose Their Lives in a Paper Factory Fire

Baltimore, Md., Dec. 16.—(AP)—Four women employed sorting waste paper lost their lives today in a fire that swept the plant of the Thomas H. O'Connor company, paper stock dealers, in the downtown railroad district today. Six others were injured, two by jumping from upper floors of the four-story building, and officials of the company feared these might be other bodies in the building.

PACIFIC COAST STEAMER BURNS; GOES ON ROCKS

All of Crew Rescued from Wreckage.

Seattle, Wash., Dec. 16.—(AP)—The steamer Skagway, which caught fire and went ashore two miles south of Cape Flattery at the entrance to the Strait of Juan de Fuca early today, was abandoned as a total loss this afternoon.

Capt. E. Strandquist, master of the vessel, who refused to take to the boats with the rest of the crew earlier in the day, was removed by the coast guard and taken aboard the cutter Spokane.

The 26 members of the crew were taken to the coast guard station at Neah bay.

The Skagway was bound for Seattle from Los Angeles and San Francisco. Her cargo included 100 barrels of gasoline, lubricating oil, and alcohol.

Capt. H. D. Hinchey, northwest division commander of the coast guard, had issued orders that Capt. Strandquist was to be removed with force, if necessary.

"We all admire the bravery of Capt. Strandquist," he said, "but the Skagway is in a dangerous part of the coast and it will be perilous for our cutters to stand by if a storm comes up."

EVEN DRYS ASK CAUTION ON LAW TO JAIL BUYERS

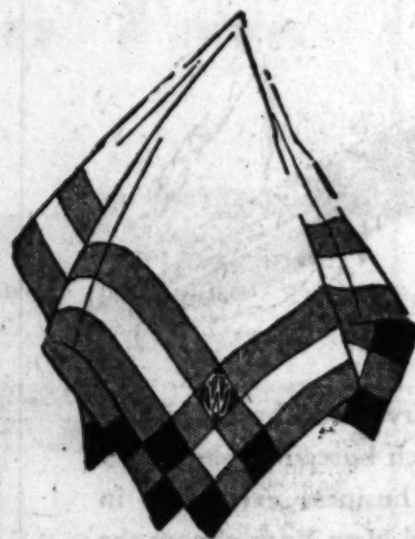

Washington, D. C., Dec. 16.—(AP)—Delay in legislation making the liquor buyer equally guilty with the seller was urged today in a resolution adopted by the National Conference of Organizations Supporting the Eighteenth Amendment.

The conference advised the delay "in the hope of early final judicial construction in several pending cases in which under existing laws the sellers and the buyers have both been mentioned as possibly equally guilty."

A further reason for delay was that the President's commission on law enforcement had not reported, the organization said.

President Hoover was commended for "his steadfast stand on behalf of prohibition law enforcement and observance."

the record of the country. Our jails and prisons are full to overflowing, and in order to put in additional prisoners, some must be let out.

Resonance Fancies.

"Prohibition has reached such a condition that what we are now forced to discuss is not prohibition of alcoholic beverage control, but the question is 'shall our government continue to be revolutionized by fanatical churchmen and prohibitionists?' Shall our politicians be encouraged to continue to yield and straddle, seeking votes from both sides?

"I shall not stand idly by and favor the off-hand killing of the innocent with the guilty to enforce an unenforceable and unwise law? The Volstead act was vetoed by President Wilson and passed over his veto by the senate and house of representatives under the lash of the Anti-Saloon league, which has continued in control of our government ever since."

"President Wilson vetoed the Volstead law. President Hoover refers to it as 'the great experiment'."

Violence Sense of Justice.

"Is there anything wrong, my dear Mr. Wood, with the sense of justice of the American people or their views as to the general propriety of things when they will let such incidents as these shootings and killings, and ruffianism go unpunished? Does the Detroit Republican club favor such proceedings and the attitude of the government in such matters?"

"In our government, your government and mine, intent on fairness, and justice, and wise government, or is it merely intending by these methods to drive the people of the country who oppose such processes into open revolt? Personally, I thoroughly believe that the example set by the federal government's agents in the free use of firearms, the random shooting here and there of innocent victims on suspicion; the breakings and enterings, and searchings without warrant are examples for help men and thieves to follow in their acts of degradation."

"For myself I find that I cannot conscientiously support or favor any organization which does not openly oppose these existing evil conditions."

"The Detroit Republican club must be either for or against this policy of our government. If it is not against, it is for it. If it is for it, there is no place for me in its membership."

We're with You, Club's Reply.
The Detroit Republican club does not accept responsibility for the present state of prohibition enforcement and will not accept the resignation of Mr. Joy, when the matter comes up at its regular meeting Thursday.

Judge Edward B. Dennoe of the Common Pleas court said today.

Judge Dennoe is vice president of the club and ranking officer in the absence of State Senator Arthur E. Wood.

"The Detroit Republican club never has been a friend of the prohibition law," Judge Dennoe said. "The majority of our members feel about the matter as Mr. Joy does, and we do not intend to permit him to imply that the blame on us by resigning for the reasons he gives."

Judge Kenyon Scores Drys for Their Raiding Methods

St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 16.—[Special.]—Judge William E. Kenyon of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, in an opinion issued here today, reversed the conviction of Charles E. Day of Omaha for violating the Volstead act, because of the circumstances under which Day was arrested, and the manner in which evidence against him was obtained.

Judge Kenyon is a member of President Hoover's crime commission, and is giving all his time to the commission's work. The decision in the Day case was reached while he was still in active duty, and was made public after Circuit Judge Booth and District Judge Reeves concurred in it.

Day was arrested as he was about to enter an apartment building, in which two stills and a quantity of mash were found. He had just unloaded a 100 pound sack of sugar from a truck. On searching Day's pockets, prohibition agents found papers connecting him with the operation of the still.

One Sentence Only.

"This court," Judge Kenyon said in his opinion, "has many times held that where an officer of the law has direct personal knowledge from one or more of his five senses—sight, hearing, touch, smell or taste—that the suspected person is committing a crime in his presence, he may lawfully arrest him."

"Granting that the prohibition officers were justified in believing from the smell of fermenting mash emanating from this building, and from other circumstances, that a felony was being committed in the building, does it follow that they had sufficient probable cause to assume that a man in the yard, with four 100 pound sacks of sugar in a truck at night, one of which he was attempting to load on his back, and with a few empty jugs in the truck, was participant in the felony?"

Suspicion Not Sufficient.

"Mere suspicion is not sufficient, nor does it satisfy constitutional requirements that the evidence secured by the search of his person showed the party to be in fact guilty."

"The fourth and fifth amendments are intended to apply to the guilty as well as the innocent."

"It is well at times to advert to such language as the Supreme court used when it said:

"The effect of the fourth amendment is to put the courts of the United States, and federal officials in the exercise of their power and authority, under limitation and restraint as to the exercise of such power and authority, and to forever secure the people, their persons, houses, papers and effects against all unreasonable searches and seizures under the guise of law. This protection reaches all alike, and the duty of giving it force and effect is obligatory upon all entrusted under our federal system with the enforcement of the laws."

His Unwarranted Practices.

"The tendency of those who execute the criminal laws of the country to obtain convictions by means of unlawful seizures and enforced confessions, the latter often obtained after subjecting the accused person to unwarranted practices destructive of rights secured by the federal constitution, should find no sanction in the judgments of the courts, which are charged at all times with the support of the constitution and to which people of all conditions have a right to appeal for the maintenance of such fundamental rights."

TARDIEU SOOTHES FOES WITH 'WILD WEST' ARGUMENT

PARIS, Dec. 16.—[AP.]—Premier Tardieu tonight borrowed a phrase from the once wild west of the United States to defend himself from one of the strongest opponents yet launched against his ministry in the chamber of deputies.

"Don't shoot the piano player; he is doing the best he can," the premier argued to the deputies, explaining, "that is an American argument. That is what they used to say in American frontier towns."

Carrying on his metaphor, the premier argued that he, as the player, was rendering the best possible tune for France. This seemed to soothe the widest of the opposition and Louis Fremont, Socialist, and Julien Durand, Radical, both agreed to withdraw their interpellations of the government.

SNOW BOMBARD 'SIAMESE TWINS' DENEEN, CERMAK

Defends G. O. P. Fight
Bipartisan Rule.

BY PARKE BROWN.

Simultaneous statements from United States Senator Deneen, Chairman Cermark of the Democratic central committee, yesterday morning, both attacking the reelection of the Republican committee to R. W. Snow, chairman of latter body, an opening that he met with avidity.

After denouncing really the two sides upon himself and suggesting that newspaper space might be used by the insurance of Senator Cermark statement signed with Snow, Snow issued a typewritten statement in which he called the a pair of Siamese twins.

Attacks Deneen Record.

Then, advising Cermark to wait before starting a fight with politicians, the new county chairman in effect that as a United States senator Deneen has shown himself to be a G. O. P. county politician, a statement. This assault, supplemented by an interview with Charles V. Barrett, who insisted that Deneen's statement was a distortion of the senatorial campaign, despite Deneen's suggestion that discussion of that question should be deferred until President Hoover sent to the senate his message on subject.

"It is interesting to discover," the Snow statement, "that Deneen's statement is still worse than at six cylinders. They stand shoulder to shoulder in their determination to neither abandon nor attract to the cause the sentiment that made absolute divorce between political interests of political life of different parties."

"So far as the county is concerned, only say that his courage is not his judgment. Instead of voting time and gray matter to defense of his bipartisan playmate should have enough to do in the county board out of the financial and practical bankruptcy which he has led Cook county."

Talks Much at Home.

"Senator Deneen, who has never dressed the senate upon any question of national importance, becomes talkative, as usual, when a political approach in which his position to be the political boss of the county is threatened."

"As Cook county politician is again working about crime and corruption in Chicago, it strikes me a leader who for more than a year has had the representatives of the law enforcement agencies and has spent more than half a million dollars of public money through representatives within that should sing low on crime and corruption in view of the complete of his widely advertised plan to some of these criminals and politicians to justice."

"There is a growing impression Cook county and, I am told, a distinct impression throughout the state that the senator is more interested in his job as a national leader in county than he is in his job as a member of the United States senate."

Controls Prosecuting Machine.
"It is not very happy in his mind to the failure of local candidates, political and otherwise. The courts can act only the prosecuting machinery of county is moved. The only friends control the prosecuting machinery."

"My sincere hope now is the Deneen's well known disposition to prosecute will not delay toward disbanding the republican military district alliance, which responsible for the Tim Crow unit after the statute of limit has run."

"The voters of Chicago may find that neither criticism nor will change my determination to back decent government in Cook county by the crushing of all bipartisanship between political leaders of all parties. If Mr. Deneen desires to up a campaign in opposition to his own campaign for return to United States senate, that is his own business."

"It is my judgment, however, the law he defends his alliance with Cook county boss with the Democratic leaders and the more attention given to presenting to the voters as an Illinois representative in Washington, the more his campaign will be appreciated by those same voters."

The London organization today a banquet at the Palmer hotel in honor of Walter E. Bacon, its date for county treasurer. It of those $100 a plate affairs of all in raising campaign funds for the threatened break between General Carlstrom and Deneen because of the latter's alliance with London."

SNOW BOMBARDS 'SIAMESE TWINS,' DENEEN, CERMAK

Defends G. O. P. Fight on Bipartisan Rule.

BY PARKE BROWN.

Simultaneous statements from United States Senator Deneen and Chairman Cermark of the Democratic central committee yesterday morning, both attacking the reorganization of the Republican committee, gave to W. W. Snow, chairman of the Senate, an opening that he seized with alacrity.

After discussing orally the two attacks upon himself, and suggesting that newspaper space might be saved by the issuance of a joint Deneen-Cermark statement signed with both names, Snow issued a typewritten statement in which he called the two a pair of Siamese twins.

Alaska Denies Record.

Then, advising Cermark to wait until after the Republican primary in May before starting a fight with Deneen, the new county chairman said to effect that as a United States senator Deneen has shown himself to be a Cook county politician in a statement. This assault was continued by an interview with Charles V. Barrett, who insisted that the world court will be a dominant force in the Illinois senatorial campaign, despite Deneen's suggestion of discussion of that question be moved until President Hoover has got to the senate his message on the subject.

"It is interesting to discover," said Snow statement, "that the Deneen-Cermark alliance is still working a six cylinders. They stand shoulder to shoulder in their determination to be neither ashamed nor afraid to bat against the sentiment that demands absolute divorce between the political interests of political leaders of different parties."

"As far as Tony is concerned, I am only saying that his courage is better than his judgment. Instead of doing time and gray matter to the issue of his bipartisan playmate he should have enough to do in steering the county board out of the financial and practical bankruptcy into which he has led Cook county."

Talks Much at Home.

Senator Deneen, who has never addressed the senate upon any question of national importance, becomes locally talkative, as usual, when a primary election approaches, in which his ambition to be the political boss of Cook county is threatened.

"As a Cook county politician, he is a good deal about crime and corruption in Chicago. It strikes me that a leader who for more than a year has had the representatives of his party faction in undisputed control of the law enforcement agencies and who has spent more than half a million dollars of public money through those representatives within that time should say low on crime and corruption in view of the complete collapse of his widely advertised plan to bring some of these criminals and corruptionists to justice."

"There is a growing impression in Cook county and, I am told, a very distinct impression in Washington that the senator is more interested in his job as a factional leader in Cook county than he is in his job as a member of the United States senate."

Continues Presenting Machinery.

"It is not very happy in his reference to the failure of local courts to discharge political and other alliances. The courts can not only after the presenting machinery of the county has moved. The senator's friends control the prosecuting machinery."

"My sincere hope now is that Mr. Deneen's well known disposition to presentists will not delay action toward dismantling the result of his county district alliance, which was responsible for the Tammany machine, until after the statute of limitations has run."

"The voters of Chicago may be confident that neither criticism nor abuse will change my determination to bring back decent government in Cook county by the crushing of all bipartisanism between political leaders of different parties. If Mr. Deneen desires to book a campaign in opposition to this, let him campaign for return to the United States senate, that is his business."

"It is my judgment, however, that the time he spends his alliance as a Cook county boss with the Democratic faction and the more attention he gives to presenting to the voters his record as an Illinois representative in Washington, the more his style of campaigning will be appreciated by those who value it."

"The London organization tonight has a banquet at the Palmer house in honor of Walter E. Bacon, its candidate for county treasurer. It is one of those 'give a party' affairs used to all in raising campaign funds. Deneen's candidacy is said to be the cause of the threatened break between Alton General Christman and Senator Deneen, because of the latter's supposed alliance with Lundin."

LAWYER DENIES LOVEMAKING IN ARNOLD TRIAL

He Only Helped in Divorce Action.

New York, Dec. 16.—(Special.)—His crisp answers, Charles F. Hann, 31, a bachelor lawyer, today denied to a jury in Supreme court that he had relations with Mrs. Beale Elora Arnold, Park avenue society matron, who was the third witness in the trial of her husband, Ray H. Arnold, millionaire broker, in his counter suit for divorce. He is also defendant in a charge of alienation of affections suit brought against him by Arnold.

Hann, 31, good looking and exceedingly well dressed, was the third witness called today. He testified that he was a graduate of Harvard law school and had been in practice for thirteen years at 17 Wall street. He admitted having been a prominent part in Republican politics and in American League affairs.

Called on Professional Matter.
Asked when he first met Mrs. Arnold, the witness said he was introduced to her at a dinner party in the Plaza hotel about March 23, 1928. Two months later he again met her and Arnold to talk over professional matters.

"I was living at that time at the Harvard Law School club," Hann testified. "Mrs. Arnold asked me to discuss legal matters."

"In connection with what?" he was asked by Henry Potter, counsel for the Arnold.

"Divorce," the witness replied. "I described various meetings with Mrs. Arnold at her country home, Beale Villa, in Greenwich, Conn., and at his offices."

"I saw her two or three times," he testified. "In May, 1928, I saw her in June and July of the same year."

Worked on Divorce Case.
Q—At her home in Greenwich? A—Yes.

Q—How many times were you at her home? A—Maybe every other day during June and a great deal during evenings in July.

Q—You stayed over night in her home during those months? A—Probably three or four times in June and July.

The witness said that he spent most of his time while at Beale Villa consulting Mrs. Arnold about the divorce, interviewing servants and friends, and writing out affidavits.

Q—Did you ever kiss, hug, or otherwise show yourself in an intimate way with Mrs. Arnold? A—Never.

Q—Did you ever drink with her? A—Never.

Q—Did you ever mix drinks for her or make gin for her as witnesses have testified? A—Never.

Spencer He Never Saw Man.
The witness' calm was slightly jarred when he was asked whether he had ever met James Spencer, the liquor peddler, as he called himself, who testified that he visited the Arnold apartment at 1025 5th avenue, talked over liquor prices with Mrs. Arnold and Hann and saw Mrs. Arnold in a negligee sitting in the lawyer's lap.

"I never saw the witness, Spencer, in my life until he took the stand in this courtroom," Hann said indignantly.

The witness denied that on the evening of Jan. 15, 1929, he kissed Mrs. Arnold as she reclined upon a divan in her apartment in 5th avenue.

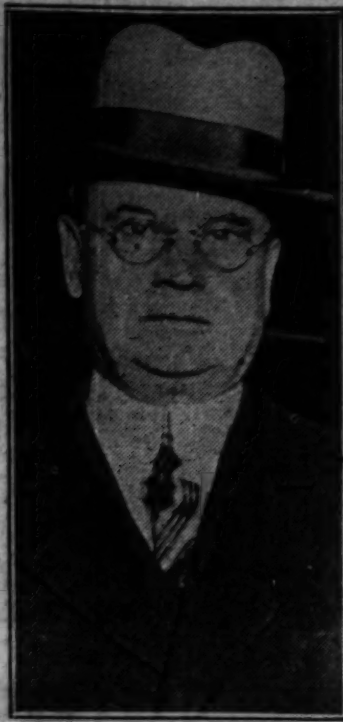

"That was the evening of a bridge party," Hann explained. "There were many guests present. There certainly was no opportunity to be alone with Mrs. Arnold on that occasion, which was the birthday anniversary of her youngest daughter, Raella. I left the apartment with friends about midnight."

Mr. Potter read a long list of alleged meetings between the witness and Mrs. Arnold, when witnesses for the husband had testified, they saw him embracing or kissing Mrs. Arnold and serving her drinks. The witness denied each accusation and added that the only drinks he had had at Beale Villa were cocktails, never more than two before dinner.

Hann admitted that Mrs. Arnold had given him a certificate for 100 shares of stock in her husband's company, Income Properties, Inc. This stock, valued at $14,000, he testified, was given him not as a gift or as a fee, but so that he might insist upon examining the financial records of Arnold's companies as a stockholder.

ON WAY HOME

SENATOR HIRAM JOHNSON.

United States Senator Hiram Johnson, hurrying through Chicago yesterday on his way to spend the holidays in California, took occasion to reiterate his antagonism to the world court.

"We must keep up the fight against this tribunal," declared Senator Johnson, who was accompanied by Mrs. Johnson. "I'll never be reconciled to an organization in which this nation is outvoted twelve to one."

This will be the first Christmas in twelve that Senator Johnson and his wife have spent together in California with their children and grandchildren, they said.

"I was living at that time at the Harvard Law School club," Hann testified. "Mrs. Arnold asked me to discuss legal matters."

"In connection with what?" he was asked by Henry Potter, counsel for the Arnold.

"Divorce," the witness replied. "I described various meetings with Mrs. Arnold at her country home, Beale Villa, in Greenwich, Conn., and at his offices."

POPE SEES POWER OF CHURCH AIDED BY ITALIAN PACT

Praises Treaty; Creates Six New Cardinals.

BY DAVID DARRAH.
(Chicago Tribune Staff Service.)
ROME, Dec. 16.—In a secret consistory this morning Pope Pius XI. created six new cardinals, three foreign and three Italian, which increases the membership of the sacred college from 57 to 63. The church senate now consists of 13 foreign cardinals and 50 Italian cardinals. Cardinal Dougherty of Philadelphia and Cardinal Bourne, archbishop of Westminster, were present at the consistory.

The cardinals on whom the red hat will be bestowed at Thursday's public consistory are Emanuele Gonzales Cerezo, patriarch of Lisbon; Eugenio Pacelli, papal nuncio to Berlin; Luigi Lercaro, archbishop of Palermo; Carlo Emanuele Minoretti, archbishop of Turin; Magr. Joseph McRory, archbishop of Armagh, Ireland; and Jean Verdier, archbishop of Paris.

Has Cause to Rejoice.
After reading the bull nominating the new cardinals, Pope Pius pronounced the allocation referring to which is regarded in ecclesiastical circles as significant terms, to conciliation between the church and the state which has been effected through the Italian pact. The pontiff declared that the church had "consecrated" to give up many of its previous claims, exacting only public recognition of the Roman pontiff as a civil prince.

Many things, said the pope, had given the church cause for rejoicing this year, and among them was the treaty with the kingdom of Italy. "We wish to recall," he continued, "those treaties which we have made with the kingdom of Italy, one of which settled the difference which existed because of the violation of the rights of the holy see and because of the spoliation of the sacred principalities which was legitimately the possession of the Roman pontiff."

"The other treaty settled things on both sides in such a fashion as to expedite and render more easy for the government of the church. On the other hand, as you know, after we settled the public recognition of the Roman pontiff as a civil prince, and advanced our and your duty in other things, we showed ourselves extremely conciliatory."

Refers to Royal Vist.
"In the course of time we do not believe this consecration of ours will enhance the cause of saving souls. Our hopes for the best have been supported by the recent friendly visit of the sovereigns and princes of Italy."

Continuing, Pope Pius recalled other things which had been accomplished during the year, among which were the armistices with Prussia, Portugal and Roumania. In his concluding words he announced that he would deal with many more subjects in the consistory which will be held in a short time.

Black smoke is not the only thing that the railroad brings to Chicago. It brings life.

CRITICS OF RADIO MUSIC.
Chicago, Ill., Dec. 16.—The broadcast of symphonic music performed by one of our leading symphony orchestras has reached a state of perfection. It seems to me, should bring each performance within the scope of music that along with other musical events.

REAL ESTATE BONDS.
Havre, Mont., Dec. 16.—Only recently the writer's attention was called to a previously mentioned but beautiful Havre real estate bond which was held by a widow. It not only advocates a law providing that real estate bonds should be placed in any property beyond a designated amount of the actual value of that property as determined by the tax return on the property itself. A foolishness, however, would not then be paid on the property and unneeded as to be issued because it would be necessary to make a honest tax return in order to finance the loan itself. It would mean both honest taxes and bonds. I know, of course, that a suggested solution is not bomb proof, but it suggests an idea that is not so. And the ones who are taking advantage of the fact that there is no fence to this particular field.

DOCTORS PRAISE FALK FOR "FLU" GERM DISCOVERY

Commendation of Dr. Isidore S. Falk, bacteriologist of the University of Chicago who recently announced that he had succeeded in isolating the influenza germ, came yesterday from London and New York. The London tribute came from Dr. David Thomson, noted specialist, who for three years has been engaged in research upon influenza.

"Hitherto we have not known any animals to be definitely susceptible to influenza, but Dr. Falk's announcement indicates that he has discovered the proper animal in the monkey," said Dr. Thomson.

Dr. William H. Parks, a member of the influenza commission of New York, characterized Dr. Falk's researches as "a very thoughtful piece of work, whether or not he has found the influenza germ."

An editorial in the current Journal of the American Medical Association, edited by Dr. Morris Fishbein, termed Dr. Falk's announcement as "unwarped," adding that "there is little or no evidence in scientific medical literature thus far, or even in spoken addresses, to indicate that I. S. Falk, Ph. D., and his associates have progressed any further toward the solution of this problem than have workers in other parts of the world, now or in the past."

MYSTERY DEATH QUIZ REOPENED IN CAPITAL CITY

May Link Dreyfus Tragedy with King Slaying.

Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
Washington, D. C., Dec. 16.—(Special.)—Sudden reopening of an inquiry into the death of Mrs. Aurelia F. Dreyfus, young divorcee, at the Falmouth Hotel on Oct. 29, today added to the recent succession of crimes in the national capital which may be another sensational murder mystery. Interest in the inquiry has been increased by disclosure of a possible connection between the Dreyfus case and the slaying of Dot King, whose real name was Ann Keenan, an artist's model, in New York six years ago. Disposition from New York today indicated that Mrs. Dreyfus was the same woman who testified at a grand jury investigation of the King slaying in 1923, at that time concealing her identity.

Mystery Witness Hears.
Mrs. King's body was found in her kitchenable 57th street apartment with an empty poison pill near the body. The mystery witness, believed to have been Mrs. Dreyfus, told the grand jury she was with Albert E. Guimaraes at the time of the murder. Guimaraes, a friend of the King girl, had been held in connection with her death.

At the time of Mrs. Dreyfus' death at the hotel club the police believed it was accidental. Her death was caused by injuries when she either fell or was thrown from a 30 foot balcony while sitting out a dance at a club party. So far as could be determined, no one saw her fall.

Shortly after the incident the Washington police took into custody Edward J. McBrien, New York broker, who had been the escort of Mrs. Dreyfus. He was released after the examination that he had been with her on the balcony, but had left to get her wraps. He said he believed she had toppled off while sitting on the balcony rail.

Dancers Hear Trail.
Several other dancers strolling along the balcony heard the thud as Mrs. Dreyfus' body struck a platform below, and they hurried down to find her unconscious. She died at the emergency hospital a few hours later without regaining consciousness.

Reopening of the case today was brought about by reports from Washington, D. C., both Acting District Attorney Ferdinand Pecora and Police Commissioner Grover A. Whalen indicated today that they saw no possibility of connecting the investigation into the death of Mrs. Aurelia Fisher Dreyfus in Washington with the mysterious murder of Dot King, Broadway dancer, here some years ago.

Reports from the capital quoted District Attorney Rover of that city as saying that he had heard that Mrs. Dreyfus was a witness whose testimony was instrumental in freeing Albert E. Guimaraes, night club habitué, who was held for questioning in regard to the murder of the dancer.

MONTREAL, Que., Dec. 16.—Andrew Day, an employee of the St. Lawrence paper mills, at Three Rivers, Que., today murdered his wife and seven children. He killed them with an axe while they were asleep. PEIPING, Dec. 16.—(Special.)—One of the most treasured possessions of Chuan Pao-Tung, 74 year old Chinese teacher, is a letter he recently received from Mrs. Herbert Hoover, to whom he gave Chinese lessons thirty years ago, in the days when the President was a young mining engineer, and Mrs. Hoover his bride.

REFUNDS PAID FOR OVERASSESSMENTS OF DEERING ESTATE

Washington, D. C., Dec. 16.—(Special.)—An abatement of $43,519 for, and a refund of $14,523 to, the estate of Charles Deering of Chicago, representing overassessments in income taxes for the years 1925 and 1926, were announced today by the Internal Revenue bureau.

The overassessments were due to transferring profits, realized from certain assets and reported as capital gains, to ordinary net income, and, second, to reduction in amount of taxable profit realized from the sale of certain assets.

The estate of Levi E. Letter was accorded an abatement of $114,552 for overassessments of income taxes for 1918 and 1920, following a decision of the United States board of tax appeals.

AUTOIST FINED AND DEPRIVED OF HIS TIN STAR

Albert Walling, 22 years old, 1113 South Waller avenue, who on Sunday night announced himself as a member of the "I Gotta Drag Club" when he was arrested for reckless driving by Police Officer James Fleming of the Des Plaines street station, was fined $1 and $1 costs in Fillmore street court yesterday. A west parks commission courtesy star affixed to Walling's auto was confiscated by police and returned to west parks police. Walling is a son of Thomas Walling, president of the Walling Scale company, 411 South Bangeman street. He protested to Fleming, "You can't arrest me. I'm a copper myself." When Fleming placed him in custody.

CHINA ROWS WITH YANKEE AIR FIRM OVER SKY RIGHTS

Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
HONGKONG, Dec. 16.—China's new passenger airline service connecting this city, Hankow and Hanchow, operated under agreement between the Nationalist government and the Curtiss-Robertson airplane interests in the United States, suspended operation today after a political conflict with the Nationalist government.

The trouble has been temporarily patched up, and service will be resumed tomorrow.

The trouble follows the resignation of Sun Fo from the presidency of the Chinese National Aviation corporation after a clash with the Chinese ministry of communications, which opposed the American contract on the grounds that it was an infringement on Chinese sovereignty. Radical elements alleged the American contract is not fair and is advantageous to American interests.

An effort was made in the house of commons today to get Mr. Henderson to make a statement as to the cause of the delay but he refused to do so.

ASSAULTED AS FANCLITATOR.

66 MEN IN "CHICKEN RACKET" ARE FINED IN NEW YORK COURT

New York, Dec. 16.—(Special.)—Federal Judge John C. Knox, spent all today sentencing persons and corporations convicted in the recent "chicken racket" trial. The Greater New York Poultry Chamber of Commerce, one of the three organizations involved, was fined $5,000. The individual defendants were in most cases placed on parole for five years. The defendants were charged with maintaining a monopoly in violation of the anti-trust law.

BOMB FOUND IN CHURCH ON EVE OF FETE FOR KING

HAGER, Jugo-Slavia, Dec. 16.—(Special.)—Church authorities, making preparations at Zagreb cathedral for the king's birthday celebration tomorrow, today discovered a bomb apparently designed and placed in the cathedral by the same persons who hid another bomb on the railway track from Belgrade to Zagreb this morning. Many arrests have been made. The bomb found on the railway tracks contained sixty pounds of explosives, and the police believe it was placed there for a special train carrying 600 Croats to the Belgrade celebration.

ROCKFORD CASE CLEWS LEAD ALL BLIND WALL

Mystery Letter S
Crank Was Killer.

Rockford, Ill., Dec. 16.—(Special.)—City and county authorities today issued to follow vague clues in investigation of the slaying of Cordelia Gummerheimer, high school teacher, but without result. An anonymous twenty page letter mailed to Capt. Homer, head of police department, from Battle Creek, contained intimations, it was said, which strengthened the theory the crime was committed by a person of low intelligence. The writer had to come to Rockford soon, it was in the hunt for the slayer.

Will Question Friends Again
Investigations plan to go over again with teacher's associates. Miss Gummerheimer in the developing new details in her which might help them to solve the mysterious killing. They denied they planned to ask August Gummerheimer, brother of the victim, to turn to the city to aid in the investigation. It came from St. Louis to talk about the body to her old home in will for burial.

Police today questioned a whom they described as a man, they were inclined to attach importance to this angle of the case. One Story Is Denied.
Denial was made by the state attorney's office of a story that teacher's friends of Miss Gummerheimer were with her as late as 10:30 p.m. Sunday morning. Citation of the report that the two at that hour was due to a misreading of the time. They left.

Several other dancers strolling along the balcony heard the thud as Mrs. Dreyfus' body struck a platform below, and they hurried down to find her unconscious. She died at the emergency hospital a few hours later without regaining consciousness.

Reopening of the case today was brought about by reports from Washington, D. C., both Acting District Attorney Ferdinand Pecora and Police Commissioner Grover A. Whalen indicated today that they saw no possibility of connecting the investigation into the death of Mrs. Aurelia Fisher Dreyfus in Washington with the mysterious murder of Dot King, Broadway dancer, here some years ago.

Reports from the capital quoted District Attorney Rover of that city as saying that he had heard that Mrs. Dreyfus was a witness whose testimony was instrumental in freeing Albert E. Guimaraes, night club habitué, who was held for questioning in regard to the murder of the dancer.

HONGKONG, Dec. 16.—China's new passenger airline service connecting this city, Hankow and Hanchow, operated under agreement between the Nationalist government and the Curtiss-Robertson airplane interests in the United States, suspended operation today after a political conflict with the Nationalist government.

The trouble has been temporarily patched up, and service will be resumed tomorrow.

The trouble follows the resignation of Sun Fo from the presidency of the Chinese National Aviation corporation after a clash with the Chinese ministry of communications, which opposed the American contract on the grounds that it was an infringement on Chinese sovereignty. Radical elements alleged the American contract is not fair and is advantageous to American interests.

ROCKFORD CASE CLEWS LEAD TO ALL BLIND WALLS

Mystery Letter Says
Crank Was Killer.

Rockford, Ill., Dec. 16.—[Special.]—City and county authorities today continued to follow vague clues in their investigation of the slaying of Miss Gummere, high school teacher, but without result.

An anonymous twenty page letter mailed to Capt. Homer, head of the police department, from Battle Creek, Mich., contained intimations, it was said, which strengthened the theory that the crime was committed by a person of low intelligence. The writer promised to come to Rockford soon to assist in the hunt for the slayer.

Will Question Friends Again. Investigations plan to go over the case again with teacher associates of Miss Gummere in the hope of developing new details in her life which might help them to solve the mysterious killing. They denied that they planned to ask August Gummere, brother of the victim, to return to the city to aid in the inquiry. He came from St. Louis to take his sister's body to her old home in Delaware for burial.

Police today questioned a youth whom they described as a moron, but they were inclined to attach little importance to this angle of the case.

One Story Is Denied. Denied was made by the state's attorney's office a story that two teacher friends of Miss Gummere were with her as late as 11:30 a. m. Sunday morning. Circulation of the report that the two left at that hour was due to a misunderstanding, it was said. They left at 10

YOUNG HUCKINS GONE; AUTO AND GOODS ATTACHED

Sheriff Fails to Find 26%
Litigant.

Cedar Rapids, Ia., Dec. 16.—George E. Huckins, co-defendant with his father, Elmer S. Huckins, and mother, Amelia Huckins, of Hancock, Wis., in a civil suit seeking to recover $2,150 invested in a concern operated by them which has paid investors 26 to 52 per cent, had left Cedar Rapids today. His attorney, Walter J. Barnegrove, upon whom a writ of attachment was served today, admitted the younger Huckins had left "at least temporarily."

Barnegrove said he did not know where Huckins had gone. He admitted that an automobile was assigned to him by Huckins, and that the car was attached by Sheriff Harry Manchester today.

Attaches House Goods. Manchester also served papers on William Saunders, caretaker of the Huckins home, attaching household goods, and another automobile held by Saunders, who was found by deputies to be the only occupant of the house.

The three Huckinses Saturday were charged with conspiracy to obtain money under false representations by Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Royster, who said they had mortgaged their home to invest money in the Huckins concern. The writ of attachment was issued by Judge Atherton Clark, but efforts to serve it on Huckins were futile when deputies failed to get any response to summons at the Huckins home.

Barnegrove today said he believed the younger Huckins left here Saturday.

Romance came riding to Miss Elsie Merrill of Winnetka, not on a milk white steed, but on a spotted mount from the Evanston Riding stables. Miss Merrill, who is 22 years old, as betrothed in her own right, and who made her debut a few weeks ago, was married on Thanksgiving evening to William C. Booth Jr., owner and manager of the stables where she had been riding for four or five years. For the last year she had been helping in the office there.

The marriage, Mrs. Booth said yesterday at the riding stables where she was officiating in the absence of her husband from the city, was not an elopement, but took place in formal fashion at Christ church in the presence of her mother and her stepfather, Dr. Robert F. Gay of Winnetka. She and her husband, who is 21 years of age, have taken an apartment in Niles Center.

MINE STRIKERS VOTE TO RETURN TO JOBS TODAY

Taylorville, Ill., Dec. 16.—(P)—Having gained part of their demands and dropped others, members of local 3473, United Mine Workers of America, employed at Peabody mine No. 9, voted, 94 to 55, tonight to return to work tomorrow.

They voted approval, 182 to 24, to keeping the Illinois National Guard in the county and accepted, 121 to 45, the report of the committee which this morning conferred with W. C. Argus, general superintendent of the Peabody mines in Christian county.

Argus agreed to withdrawal of troops from the Peabody mine property, but asked that they continue patrolling the highways. He refused to drop prosecution of miners arrested for disorders connected with the strike, but agreed to give back the jobs to striking miners.

Action of the miners at No. 9 tonight brought five of the six which have been affected back into operation.

LEGGE TAKES A SARCASTIC SHOT AT LOAN CRITICS

Assails Attitude of Commerce Chamber.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Washington, D. C., Dec. 16.—(Special.)—Alexander H. Legge, chairman of the federal farm board, expressed his opinion today upon the attitude of the United States Chamber of Commerce toward the board's administration of the farm relief act, and what he said was not exactly complimentary.

"The United States Chamber of Commerce," Mr. Legge remarked sarcastically, "wants the federal farm board to hang its clothes on a hickory limb but not go near the water."

Mr. Legge was referring to the recent statement of the agricultural service department of the chamber in which the principle, but not the practice, of farm cooperative marketing was approved. The statement proposed that the board proceed with its loan to cooperative, but to do so without damaging the interests of middlemen who now control the markets.

Chas. Law on Loans.

Mr. Legge asserted that the chamber had failed entirely to grasp the broad picture of the farm board's program. Under the law, he pointed out, the board has no choice except to function exclusively through the farmer cooperatives. If this amounts to discrimination, he said, it is simply too bad.

In regard to the chamber of commerce instance that loans to cooperatives be made only after investigation to determine whether cooperatives of existing private agencies are not economical, Legge said:

"The loans we have been making have been commodity loans. Our security is the grain itself. It does not appear necessary to us to inquire further than to determine that we have proper security and the organization applying for credit is a bona fide cooperative qualified to receive credit under the terms of the law."

The method proposed by the chamber of commerce, he added, would greatly delay the work of the board.

Working on Stabilization.

The board gradually is approaching the organization of stabilization corporations, Mr. Legge said, and with the aid of public sentiment expects to be able to fix a stabilization price high enough to insure adequate production but low enough not to encourage overproduction.

The farm board today announced the appointment of Joseph A. Davis, director of the food research institute at Leland Stanford university, as its chief economist.

GRANMA GIVES YOUNG ROBBERS A LECTURE; PRISONERS FOR HOUR

Omaha, Neb., Dec. 16.—(AP)—Police today were looking for two young robbers who last night invaded the home here of James E. Foster, president of the National American Fire Insurance company and held the three occupants of the house in terror for an hour while they searched for jewelry and money. The robbers escaped with $125 in money and some inexpensive jewelry after receiving a stern lecture from Mr. Foster's 75-year-old mother.

The elderly Mrs. Foster asked one of the robbers if he did not have a mother.

"I had a mother, but she died," the youth replied.

"You should be ashamed of yourself," said Mrs. Foster.

John Jennings, the hired man at the Foster home, grappled with one of the robbers and received a bullet wound in the foot. The bandit then locked Jennings in the basement.

The telephone wires had been cut and police were not informed of the robbery until today. Mr. Foster was out of the city at the time of the affair.

MADRID, Dec. 16.—(AP)—Premier Primo de Rivera issued a statement to the press today replying to what was described as propaganda against the dictatorship both at home and abroad by a few malcontents, declaring that the dictatorship has the support of most of the Spanish people.

He said that it was his duty and that of his supporters to continue the dictatorship until it was to the interests of Spain to change government.

He cited improvements in the condition of Spain and advised critics to consider seriously the difficulties of organizing a solid government before they try it.

BLACK CAT TURNS WHITE IN STORM; FRIGHT BLAMED

LONDON, Dec. 16.—(AP)—A black cat that had turned white from fright, according to the crew of the Lowestoft fishing vessel Gladys, was among the survivors of the boat landed at Grimsby today after being rescued during the recent storms in the channel and North sea.

The crew abandoned the Gladys off the German coast on Friday, and their mascot shared all their terrifying experiences. The story of the cat's color transformation found credence with the superintendent of the London People's Dispensary for Sick Animals.

"We often have animals here that turn strange colors as a result of their experiences. Men go white with fright, as we all know, and the same is true of animals."

DEACON GIVEN YEAR IN PRISON IN LIQUOR CASE

Henry F. Bahlman, 67-year-old church deacon and former justice of the peace at Beecher, Ill., was sentenced to a year and a day in Leavenworth penitentiary by Federal Judge Wilkerson yesterday. Bahlman, with his son, Henry W. Bahlman, Beecher dentist, pleaded guilty to Jones law violations. The son was sentenced to three months in the Kane county jail.

Dry agents who raided the Bahlman home next door to the church where the older man was deacon said they found a large whisky cutting plant, a supply of liquor and hundreds of counterfeit strip stamps.

The elder Bahlman pleaded that he was responsible for the law violation and asked for the lighter sentence of his son.

CANADA UNTE TECHNICAL KN IN SEAWAY P

Predicts Early O. M.
Several Problems

BY STANLEY JACKSON

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
MONTREAL, Que., Dec. 16.—An agreement between the board of directors of the Canadian government and those of the hydro-electricity of Ontario respecting engineering differences over the St. Lawrence project was forecast today as a preliminary to any negotiations which have to do with the project. The points of difference were technical engineering problems as to the best way and the best of carrying out certain projects. It was pointed out that these differences have been reconciled.

Power Question Problem

Another preliminary conference between the dominion government and the premiers of Ontario and Quebec over the power question has been held but will occur either before the new year or immediately after. Courts could not settle the question and an endeavor will now be made to adjust by mutual agreement.

No doubt the dominion will maintain its paramount authority in navigation and seek all the possible to adjust by mutual agreement according to the present disposition of the rest would go to the power. There is little doubt of an agreement.

With the likelihood of engineering differences being reconciled, dominion and provincial right power settled mutually, the power scheme would reach the point of finally deciding whether the enterprise should be proceeded. Arresting influences are still in view. There is the present cost, though the return, it would justify the outlay.

Political Factor Imports

Perhaps more potential is a political factor and the question whether, when the United States likely to adopt a tariff policy able to Canada, it is expedient to enter into an international scheme. Against this will be the element that the project will be country as much as the other that, while tariffs are in things, the deepened waterway constructed for all time a benefit it produces will be a Senator W. CANADA UNTIES TECHNICAL KNOTS IN SEAWAY PLAN

Predicts Early O. K. on Several Problems.

BY STANLEY JACKSON.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
MONTREAL, Que., Dec. 16.—Early agreement between the board of engineers of the Canadian government and the board of the hydro-electric commission of Ontario respecting engineering differences over the St. Lawrence seaway project was forecast today. This is a preliminary to any negotiations which have to do with proceeding with this international project.

The points of difference were largely technical engineering problems and not the best way and the best place of carrying out certain projects. It is believed that these divergent views have been reconciled.

Power Question Problem.
Another preliminary conference between the dominion government and the premiers of Ontario and Quebec over the power question has been delayed but will occur either before the new year or immediately after. The points could not settle the question and an endeavor will now be made to adjust by mutual agreement a question in which the law is obscure.

No doubt the dominion will maintain its paramount authority over navigation and seek all the power necessary for navigation purposes, but, according to the present disposition, all the rest would go to the provinces. There is little doubt of an agreement. With the likelihood of engineering differences being reconciled and the dominion and provincial rights over power settled mutually, the St. Lawrence seaway scheme would reach the stage of finally deciding whether or not the enterprise should be proceeded with, according to the present disposition, all the rest would go to the provinces.

Political Factor Important.
Perhaps more potential is the political factor and the question of whether, when the United States seems likely to adopt a tariff policy unfavorable to Canada, it is expedient to enter into an international seaway project.

Against this will be the argument that the project will benefit one country as much as the other, and that, while tariffs are ephemeral things, the deepened waters will be constructed for all time and any benefits it produces will be enduring.

Senator W. L. McDougall, chairman of the harbor commissioners of Montreal and a close friend of President W. L. MacKenzie King, has not changed his views of strongly favoring the opening of the St. Lawrence seaway. When he first expressed them a year or so ago in this city,

AVIATION NOTES

A petition for reversionary was granted by Judge Carpenter in federal court yesterday to Chicago Air Service, Inc., owners of Sky Harbor airport. The Chicago Title and Trust company was named receiver. The airport was built a year ago on 129 acres of property west of Glencoe on Dundee road. An elaborate club house and hangar were built at a cost of $500,000, and flying there enjoyed no patronage during the summer season. Walter Dabell, manager of the airport, would not discuss plans for future flying activities at the field.

The buildings and grounds committee of the board of education yesterday discussed the proposed long term lease of 600 acres of property at 83d street and Cicero avenue to the city for airport purposes, but no action was taken. Chairman Theophilus Schmidt said that the matter would be taken up Monday, and that in the meantime the committee would be reaching a working agreement with the city. Ald. John S. Clark, chairman of the city council finance committee, who appeared before the committee on another matter, stated incidentally that he believed the finance committee would act favorably on the project.

SHERIFF ON STAND AT MURDER TRIAL OF EIGHT DEPUTIES

Burnsville, N. C., Dec. 16.—(AP)—Further testimony to support a plea of self defense was introduced today at the trial of eight deputy sheriffs charged with second degree murder in connection with the death of six men in a cotton mill strike disorder at Marion on Oct. 2.

Sheriff Oscar Adkins of Marion, who led his men to the scene of the battle in front of the gate to the Marion Manufacturing company mill, was a witness. He corroborated testimony of other defense witnesses that the officers fired into the crowd of strikers after it had advanced upon them and threatened their lives.

Under cross-examination the sheriff denied that he "danced every time the mill interests whistled," but admitted he went to the mill preceding the disorders at the request of the mill officials and without a warrant. However, he asserted he would have "done the same thing for the union."

considered as traditionally opposed to the scheme, he caused quite a sensation.

In a speech before the St. George Snowshoe club over the week-end he repeated his support for the plan. A saving of 3 cents a bushel on Canadian grain and 24 hours in time would result from the scheme, he added. The idea that ocean shipping would pass Montreal he dismissed with an emphatic negative.

FALLS 11 STORIES TO DEATH.
Charles Reed, 26 years old, 5437 Quincy street, an electrician employed by the Wagon Manufacturing company, plunged eleven floors to his death yesterday when an elevator shaft in the 450 North Michigan building.

PASSMORE LAYS CITY CRIME TO JAMMED COURTS

Delays in dealing out justice to criminals, because of the overcrowded condition of criminal court dockets, was blamed by John H. Passmore, clerk of the Criminal court, for the prevalence of crime in Chicago in an address yesterday at the meeting of the first district of the Illinois Federation of Women's clubs at the Palmer house. He discounted talk of the alliance of crime and politics, declaring that few politicians of any standing will be able to form an alliance with notorious criminals.

"During the last twenty-five years in Cook county we have been more than 1,000 cases behind on the dockets," Mr. Passmore declared. "If we could take circuit and superior judges off their benches long enough to serve in the Criminal court and reduce the criminal docket below 500 cases and try 85 per cent of the cases within 30 days we could get somewhere. We need competent lawyers who will help put law breakers in the penitentiary."

Other speakers who discussed public health and welfare were Health Commissioner Keogh, Mrs. Agnes McCarty, member of the pardon and parole board; Mrs. George Thomas Palmer, state probation officer; James N. Kearney, assistant corporation counsel; and Dr. Edward Lunak, assistant superintendent of schools.

SHOT BY HUSBAND, DEAD.
Lincoln, Ill., Dec. 16.—(AP)—A bullet wound received on Dec. 10 during a family argument, proved fatal to Mrs. Gladys Long, 25, here this morning. Mrs. Long told authorities she was shot by her husband while both were under the influence of liquor at their home a week ago.

YOUTH HUNTED AFTER SHOOTING.
Ernest Brett, 19 years old, 1009 North Parkside avenue, was being sought yesterday by the Austin police for a shooting charge in which he shot at James W. McMillen, 20 years old, 6047 Chicago avenue. McMillen said he had taken Brett's sister, Ruth, 18, home and that he was sitting in his automobile when Brett, Austin avenue, when Brett walked up and started shooting.

FINISH BEACON SYSTEM ON AIR ROUTE TO OMAHA

The department of commerce announced yesterday that the radio beacon system, a method of guiding aviation by sound instead of light, has been extended through Chicago to Omaha on the trans-continental air route. The system operates 24 hours a day and is as effective in fog as in clear weather.

Beacons have been installed in Chicago and Sterling, Ill., and at Des Moines, Ia., and will be in operation today. The beacons emit a set of signals which are inaudible to a pilot on his true course. When the pilot deviates to the left he hears a dot and dash; when he goes off the course to the right the signal is a dash and dot. The strength of the signal diminishes in proportion to the degree of the plane off the course.

HUSBAND FINDS SHIP PHONE IDEA HAS ITS FAULTS

Wife Refuses to Believe
$21 Leviathan Call.

BY JOHN STEELE.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
LONDON, Dec. 16.—Telephone service to shore will probably be standard equipment on all big liners in a very few years, according to J. L. R. Van Meter, general traffic manager of the American Telephone and Telegraph company, who is now in London after crossing on the Leviathan on the first ocean voyage in which commercial telephone connection with land was available.

An amusing incident occurred when a husband, wishing to surprise his wife, telephoned when he was two days out. The suspicious spouse would not believe he had actually sailed and he had to spend more money on a couple of calls to friends asking them to please notify his wife that they had personally seen him aboard the steamer.

Connections Quickly Made.

During this epoch-making trip of the Leviathan more than 300 conversations were carried on with America, of which one-quarter were paid for at the rate of $21 for a three minute talk.

Reverse calls were also made to test the working of the apparatus. Sir Thomas Lipton made the first call. Every message was heard on both ends perfectly with a single exception when atmospheric conditions caused a break of a few minutes, after which all went well. The average time between the passenger's filing the number aboard the Leviathan and

PARIS WAR VETERANS PROTEST DISPLAY OF MILITARY XMAS TOYS

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

PARIS, Dec. 16.—Struck by the preponderance of toys of military character in the Christmas window of the big Paris department stores, the French executive committee of the International conference of wounded veterans raised its voice in protest today.

"We deplore the tendency to represent war as a sort of a game to the younger generation, when it would be more appropriate to reveal its really tragic character and ceaselessly remind the youngsters of the sufferings, mass killings, and destructions, which it inflicted on humanity," reads the committee's complaint.

The complaint goes on to appeal to the mothers and fathers, and particularly war widows to boycott the toys, which seem capable of developing bellicose tendencies in the minds of the young.

connection with the right party in America was three minutes.

At present the service is only available to America, but with the cooperation of the British postoffice it will be possible to telephone both ways with in a very few months. The apparatus installed is expected to provide satisfactory communication at a distance of 1,400 miles out—about three days' voyage—but although commercial service is only offered the first three days, service calls were made with perfect success at 1,400 miles out.

Navy Made Early Tests.

Establishment of the service marks the end of 13 years' experiments which began when what is probably the first telephone conversation ever held between a ship and ordinary shore telephonic services was carried on by a captain aboard the U. S. S. New Hampshire and the then secretary of the navy.

The Bell laboratories, which made the early experiments, carried the work to a successful conclusion. They have had scientists aboard the Levi-than since last July experimenting in overcoming the great difficulties, such as interference from dynamo and others.

Three wireless services are received aboard the Leviathan—this ship's radio, stock market service, and Chicago Tribune Press Service, which furnishes the latest news for the daily paper, printed aboard the ship.

For a long time the experimenters were baffled by strange cracklings, which they finally discovered was caused by the rubbing of the metal joints of the ship's 200 stays, setting up a minute electrical current. The problem was overcome by banding the stays over the joints with copper wire as electric rails are banded and grounding them through the ocean.

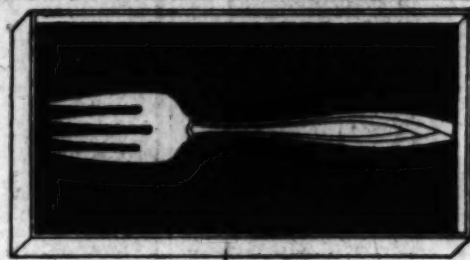

Connect with New Jersey.

In the daytime the ship transmits on a wave length of 34 meters to the land station at Deal Beach, N. J., on 88.4 meters. The night service was conducted on 66.3 and 73 meters, respectively, since longer waves are too much affected in the daytime by disturbances and speed by the atmosphere and the sun's rays. Although electric magnetic storms create difficulties the service is comparatively independent of weather conditions, according to Mr. Van Meter.

Directional antenna is used, which gives better results and also makes for more privacy since a device for scrambling and then unscrambling a conversation to prevent listening in is still unperfected. This is comparatively simple in America, where most ships leave from New York and follow the same general route, but it provides a more difficult technical problem for Great Britain, since the first day or two the routes of boats leaving Southampton, Plymouth, Liverpool, London, Cork, Belfast, Glasgow, etc., diverge considerably.

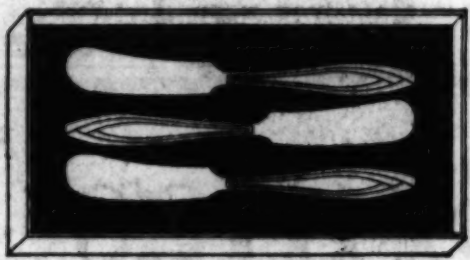

Wine Barrel Under Table
Too Much, So Wife Sues

For thirty-three years Mrs. Joseph Gilloffe, 5114 Concord place, listened to her husband snore through the night in his cups, her bill for divorce filed in the Superior court yesterday. But when he moved his wine barrel under the dining-room table and attached a bicycle pump to it so that he could draw wine without rising from his chair, she left him. She is represented by Attorney Harry X. Cole.

Can Mrs. Advertiser give Mr. Advertiser a BUYING IDEA?

Here he comes out to your waiting car . . . holding the fortunes of a dozen manufacturers in his arms. The least of those trademarks is valued at millions. The good will of each is listed among their greatest assets.

So well-known for uniformity of quality, so standard in flavor, so liked for goodness that the names of these standard products ring with friendliness. So widely advertised and trusted that you never dream of questioning the contents.

Now, say the SCRIPPS-HOWARD Newspapers to national advertisers, "Why not apply your own proved and successful merchandising formula to the buying of newspaper space? You sell a high standard of quality. Why not buy it? . . . You sell unvarying quality. Why not buy it? . . . You sell known quality. Why not buy it? . . . You sell your goods at the lowest feasible price, in huge volume. Why not buy newspaper space in that same way?"

Twenty-five SCRIPPS-HOWARD Newspapers, blanketing the influential homes of 25 vital key-cities, offer values that are as known, as unvarying, and as uniform as the values in the manufacturer's own package. For these reasons: Circulation concentrated almost wholly in the city trading area where selling costs are lower. Complete freedom from scatteration to points remote from the city market. High type of reader attracted by fearless live-wire policies and brilliant, complete news coverage. Natural circulation. Wanted circulation. Home circulation. Secured without premiums, drives, contests, or hypodermics . . . these are the reasons why Scripps-Howard can now render a service to the advertiser comparable only to the service which the advertiser renders his own customers.

$1,250,000 SUIT BY BROKER IS PLACED ON TRIAL

McManus Seeks Payment of Dillon, Read & Co.

The trial of the $1,250,000 suit brought by Thomas J. McManus, investment broker at 38 South Dearborn street, against Dillon, Read & Co., New York brokers, for commissions claimed in negotiating an account with the Polish government for the sale of $10,000,000 worth of Polish bonds, was opened yesterday before Superior Judge Harry C. Stuttle. The suit has been pending for four years.

The bonds were issued in 1925. They were sold at $88 and carried a per cent interest. McManus alleges that he negotiated for several years with the Polish government to have these bonds placed in the United States by Dillon, Read & Co. For this service he was to have received a commission of 2 1/2 per cent, under his contract as an agent of the New York firm, he charges.

Broker Brings Suit.
The issue was placed with Dillon, Read & Co. in January, 1925. The following February McManus brought suit, alleging that his contract was violated when a representative of the New York company approached an attaché of the Polish embassy at Washington, who offered to place the sale directly. This plan was carried through, according to McManus' petition.

The brokers, through Attorneys Truett, McCallum and Emory R. Beckner, deny that McManus acted for them in negotiating the sale of the bonds. They declare negotiations were under way for a bond issue as early as 1923, and that these were made by other representatives of the company.

Attorneys for the brokers have spent six months in taking depositions in Poland in support of their case. Testimony of many former and present leaders of the Polish government will be read. Other depositions have been taken in behalf of McManus.

Attorney For Poland.
The Polish government is represented in the suit by Attorney Francis of Boston. Since the government promised to assume all indemnity in placing the bonds with the New York brokers, the republic of Poland may have to pay McManus if he wins the suit.

The attorneys waived a jury trial and agreed to abide by the decision of Judge Stuttle without appeal. The trial is expected to last for a week.

PARADE TO OPEN NEW SOUTH SIDE DRIVE TODAY

The new South Park outer drive link between 39th and 51st streets will be opened to traffic today. At 3 o'clock President E. J. Kelly of the South park board will cut the ribbon opening the new section and providing a thoroughfare from Grant park to 47th street.

Twenty-five south side civic organizations will join in staging a parade in the afternoon to be followed by a banquet at the Sheraton hotel. Among those expected to speak are James Simpson and Eugene Taylor of the Chicago plan commission, John A. Carroll, president of the Hyde Park-Kenwood National bank, and President Kelly.

BEGIN BATTLE FOR VINDICATION OF M'ANDREW

Attorneys for William McAndrew, former superintendent of schools, who was ousted on charges of insubordination and of being pro-British, in March, 1925, yesterday argued before Superior Judge Hugo Pam that the school board exceeded its authority in dismissing Mr. McAndrew.

The former superintendent seeks, through the medium of a writ of certiorari or review of the previous evidence, to be vindicated of the charges against him. Attorneys Francis X. Busch and Angus Roy Shannon argued in his behalf and the school board attorney, Frank S. Highmeyer, opposed the petition.

Much of the hearing was occupied by the reading of legal authorities by Mr. Shannon in an effort to show that the board went far beyond its power.

Russia and Turkey Sign Friendship Treaty Today

ANGORA, Turkey, Dec. 16.—(AP)—A Turkish soviet amity pact will be signed here tomorrow, following the terms of the Kellogg-Brand pact for renunciation of war.

ILLINOIS UNIVERSITY FUNDS NOT AFFECTED BY COOK CO. DELAY

Champaign, Ill., Dec. 16.—(AP)—H. E. Capron, recently appointed treasurer of the University of Illinois, today said the delay of Cook county in paying $5,000,000 to the state of Illinois would not affect funds of the university.

The announcement was made to quiet a report that the delay might cause a shortage in the state appropriation for the university.

"The shortage caused by the delay in payment of Cook county state taxes might affect sanitary, school, and other state aid agencies in Chicago, but will have no effect here," Capron said. "Cook county is but one of fifty counties from which our apportionment is made up and without that sum we should have enough money to carry through the fiscal year, which ended June 30."

The University of Illinois appropriation for the 1929-31 biennium is $12,630,000.

USE AIRPLANE CARRIER POWER TO LIGHT CITY

Tacoma, Wash., Dec. 16.—(AP)—With the powerful generators of the airplane carrier Lexington tuned up to supply Tacoma with electric power, city engineers today were rushing completion of a transmission line to carry the electric energy from the navy ship, now berthed at a local dock, to the Nisqually sub-station, whence it will be distributed to the industries and residences of the city.

Rainy weather hampered flames today, but it appeared that the vessel would be hooked up with the city's distribution system in time to help carry the peak load tomorrow afternoon.

The Nisqually river was running high today and the city's plant at La Grande was being operated at capacity. Tacoma was receiving 5,000 kilowatts an hour today from Seattle in payment for power furnished yesterday when the Skagit reservoir was perilously low.

It was reported at the city hall here that the Seattle light department was on the verge of collapse Friday. Tacoma operated its steam plant at capacity yesterday to allow Seattle to store water in its Skagit reservoir.

COMMONS VOT $132,500,000 JOBLESS DO

15 Year Old Children
Benefit for First Tim

BY JOHN STEELE

(Chicago Tribune From Service)
LONDON, Dec. 16.—The Labor government's unemployment insurance bill, known as the "biggest done yet," was passed in the House of Commons tonight with a majority of 100. The bill brings the cost of unemployment insurance and year to year to $132,500,000. For the first time 15 year old children are included in its benefits. The Conservative rejection of the bill was easily defeated. Chamberlain's opposition was shown up as a spirited defense of the measure, declaring it would be better to have the unemployment benefits, than the vast majority not get any. "This was, he said, the best justification for what he called an 'expensive item.'"

Palace Call Starts Humors
Some excitement was caused this morning when it was reported that Prime Minister MacDonald had called on King George and spent an hour at Buckingham palace. The rumor was that he had gone to the king to ask for a vote of parliament and for a election. Denials were made. It was said that the call was an ordinary visit and that MacDonald was at intervals to report the progress of public business.

Efforts are being made in quarters to work up excitement over a crisis which is said to be due on Thursday night when a vote is taken on the government's coal bill. Both the liberals and conservatives have offered amendments, the equivalent of a rejection, which might, if carried, prove a reason for the dissolution of parliament.

Fees Paid to Agree.

This is thought, however, merely a demonstration on the part of the coal owners and the miners favor the bill. The objections of the liberals and the Tories to the bill are against the Liberal amendment. Neither party wishes to have a general election as in all probability the position of the Labor party would be strengthened.

WOMAN IN JAIL AS SCOFFLAW FACE NEW TRIAL

Lansing, Mich., Dec. 16.—(AP)—One of the two women prosecuted in whose behalf Judge J. B. Coffey was persuaded to take the mandatory Cuthbertson law will face prosecution on two charges if she is released from Detroit house of correction, Job deli Bird, Ingham county prosecutor said today.

The woman, Mrs. Lillian B. Coffey, a term of one year, the minimum sentence, liquor sale under the mandate of the new 1928 act. Judge Bird said he is in possession of mail on which two other liquor charges could be based and will not hesitate to act if the for charges, filed with Art Wood, commissioner of pardons and paroles, results in her release.

COMMONS VOTES $132,500,000 IN JOBLESS DOLES

15 Year Old Children to Benefit for First Time.

BY JOHN STEELE.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

LONDON, Dec. 16.—The Labor government's unemployment insurance bill, known as the "big dole" bill, was passed in the house of commons tonight with a majority of 74. The bill brings the cost of unemployment insurance next year to $132,500,000. For the first time 15 year old children are included in its benefits.

The Conservative rejection amendment was easily defeated. Chancellor of the Exchequer Philip Snowden put a spirited defense of the measure. He said it would be better even if it were not the best possible. He said that the government should not get into a position where it would be forced to ask for more money. "This was," he said, "a difficult decision for what he admitted was an expensive item."

Police Call Starts Rumor.
Some excitement was caused this morning when it was reported that Prime Minister MacDonald had called on King George and spent an hour at Buckingham palace. The rumor went around that he had gone to offer his resignation and to ask for a dissolution of parliament and for a general election. STUDENTS TO BARE SCHOOL DRINKING AT INDIANA QUIZ

Vincennes, Ind., Dec. 16.—[Special.]—High school boys of Sanborn will go before the county grand jury here tomorrow to tell what they know of liquor traffic among school children there. It was announced today by Norman Arterburn, prosecutor. Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Hancock of Sanborn brought their son, Marion, 15, to Sheriff Joseph H. Kruse Sunday and told him they had found a bottle of liquor in the family automobile. Marion was questioned and named several places where he had bought liquor. Kruse made several raids and arrests. Ed Klutey, George Klutey, and Ambrose Hulen, all farmers living near Sanborn, sold Sanborn High School boys liquor.

Kruse said while the raiding party was at George Klutey's that two girls and two boys of high school age came to buy liquor. At Hulen's place Chasney Carr, deputy sheriff, was standing in the front room reading the search warrant to Hulen when something dripped down on his hat. He raised his head and a drop of liquor struck him in the eye. Running upstairs, he found Hulen's daughter, in her haste to destroy the liquor supply, had upset a jar of it and it had leaked through the ceiling.

BURNS FATAL TO JANITOR.

Your Christmas Gift to Yourself Should be a Growth of New Hair

Watch These Points

When your hair begins to recede at the temples or crown (1), nature is actually warning you that you have been neglecting your scalp and hair. It is surely approaching the point where it will be too late to do anything but wait for the inevitable baldness.

A GOOD HEAD of Hair is a gift you need and deserve and one that can come only through your own efforts and interest. Nature, with your consent, grows hair. The Thomas' treatment aids nature by eliminating the baldness producing germ, then revitalizing the dormant hair "roots" so that a new growth of hair is visible generally within a few weeks. Let The Thomas' examine your scalp today, without charge or obligation, and start your scalp on the road to health by their own original fifteen-year proven treatment.

You, Too, Can Have a Good Head of Hair

Question: When I started the Thomas' treatment my hair was falling out and becoming very thin. I was also troubled with itchy scalp and dandruff. Now my hair has stopped falling, the dandruff has disappeared and I am pleased to say a new growth of hair covers my entire scalp. Yours very truly (Signed) G. E. (Lettie W. Del. FOREMAN-STATE
BANK OPENS IN
NEW QUARTERSSecurities Affiliate
Is Formed.BY O. A. MATHER.

Expansion of the activities of the Foreman-State banking group was announced yesterday simultaneously with occupation of the new office at La Salle and Washington streets. The Foreman-State corporation has been formed as a securities affiliate of the Foreman-State National Bank and Savings Bank.

The stock of the securities company will be held in trust for the bank stockholders.

The Foreman-State corporation will handle industrial, municipal, and public utility financing. Its president will be Gerhard Foreman, who also is official of the bank. It will have a branch office at 55 Wall street, New York.

"We have completed the organization of a well rounded investment house equipped to serve corporations and the investing public," Mr. Foreman explained. "We open our doors with extensive interests throughout the east and middle west and we look forward to bringing to Chicago an even greater share of the investment securities business, which has expanded so tremendously here during the last few years."

More than 100,000 persons thronged the handsome new banking quarters yesterday and were greeted by the officers. Masses of flowers appeared on the new premises.

Says Public May See More of Government Regulation

BY SCRUTATOR.

Whether we like it or not, the American public seems destined in the future to have its interests in many lines protected by government regulation rather than by competition.

The business men at the heads of several of the largest utility organizations in the country not only evince no determined effort to protest against the advance of regulation, but voice their approval of it. Particularly is this true of the electric industry.

A late instance of similar approval was given by Owen D. Young, chairman of the boards of the General Electric company and the Radio Corporation of America. Appearing last week before the senate committee on interstate commerce, Mr. Young suggested a belief that all the telegraphic and radio communications in the country that do foreign business should be merged, either into one private company, subject to full regulation, or by the government itself.

As there was no sentiment among the people for government ownership, he added, he believed that it would be wise to amend the present laws to permit the telegraph companies and radio communication concerns to make such arrangements as they see fit toward consolidation. Rates could be regulated, he held, to a point where they would be lower than at present.

Radio corporation wishes to dispose of all of its communication systems to the International Telephone and Telegraph corporation. An agreement for the trade has already been drawn up, subject only to the provision that the government must permit it legally to go through. International is willing to pay 400,000 shares of its $100 par stock for the Radio corporation communications, although according to Stothensheim, president of the former concern, their actual worth is about fifteen million dollars.

Mr. Young's plea is that unless radio, telegraph and cable are made an American monopoly, foreign countries which encouraged and in some instances compelled the merger of their own communication systems of like type will be able to shut our companies completely out of the picture, so far as international business is concerned.

Duplication of telegraph lines, in Mr. Young's opinion, is as illogical as the duplication of telephone systems. He has stated that the latter have had a vastly greater success since their establishment than have the telegraph companies. The entire telephone facilities of the country are virtually under the non-competitive directorship of the American Telephone and Telegraph company. In the telephone field that company has no competition.

It has sponsored improvements in technical equipment and has lowered rates for service. At present there are something like 110 telephone conversations per American to one telegram sent. In some other countries the rate is only twenty to one. The comparison, possibly, is not fair to the telegraph companies, in view of the fact that the telephone rates have been designed in many cases to take business that would go to them.

Would Western Union Join?

Doubt exists that the Western Union company, which handles about 85 per cent of the telegraph business, will be inclined to join the international if the government does permit the radio communication deal. It is possible that its management still believes that it can go along on a competitive basis against rivals in its own field and the telephone, which probably is the strongest competitor it has.

However, Mr. Young is big enough and his connections big enough to make it important what he thinks of monopolized and regulated communications.

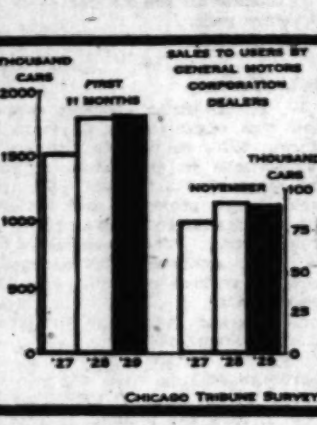

Some inkling of where his program might lead comes in a letter written by John P. H. Chandler of New York to THE TRIBUNE. He relates that his family holds 1,200 shares of Radio and the same number of A. T. & T. Then he adds:

"Now that the United States is in the world court, I believe that all air and wire communications throughout the entire globe, radio, cable, telegraph, and telephone, should be monopolized by a huge international corporation. I would like to learn the opinion of other stockholders in the various companies that would be consolidated under such a scheme."

Who, it might well be wondered, could regulate such a concern as that?

Record Dividend Total
Due; See Over Billion

(Chicago Tribune From Service.)

New York, Dec. 16.—However disappointing the stock market may have proved to shareholders in recent weeks, there can be nothing but cheer in store for them as they contemplate the record-breaking dividend and interest payments that are about to be made by corporations.

For the evidence at hand is sufficient to indicate that these payments, which are heavier at the year end than at any time, will assume proportions never before equaled in this or any other country.

Accurate estimates as to the exact amount to be paid out are virtually impossible. But, based on the generally accepted opinion that the year-end payments last year amounted to approximately $1,000,000,000, the conclusion seems warranted that this year's total dividend and interest disbursements will total between $1,250,000,000 and $1,500,000,000.

New Issues Grow.

The reasons for the increase in the payments this year are many. The volume of new issues outstanding has mounted substantially and on many of them payments are to be made. In the first nine months of the year corporation earnings were by far the largest in history. A compilation prepared by the National City bank, including 273 manufacturing and trading, 182 railroad, 89 telephone and telegraph, and 35 other utility companies, shows that corporate profits in the first three quarters averaged 20.3 per cent higher than in the comparable 1928 period, itself an enormously profitable time.

The steel industry, it is pointed out, made one of the best gains of any group, amounting to 70 per cent in the third quarter and 91 per cent in the nine months' period. The prosperity enjoyed by the steel industry has been, in turn, passed on to holders of steel shares.

Thus the United States Steel corporation has departed from its time honored procedure and is paying an extra dividend of $1 a share on Dec. 30, this in addition to its regular payment on that date of $1.75 a share. The payments to be made by this corporation alone on its common will amount to approximately $22,000,000.

Bethlehem Generous.

Bethlehem Steel, the second most important unit in the industry, has done even better by its stockholders this year. For where Bethlehem began the year without its common on a dividend basis it is entering 1929 with its common on a $6 annual basis. Its next payment on its common, however, does not occur until Feb. 15, going to stock of record Jan. 18. The corporation will pay $1.75 on its preferred stock on Jan. 2.

Aside from the improvement in the financial position of corporations this year, due to increased earnings, their emergence from debt has been expedited by funds derived from offerings of new stock to shareholders. The companies, therefore, are better able to reward their stockholders handsomely at this time than ever before. Their surpluses have never been so large.

The stockholders' rewards have come in the form of extra, increased, initial, stock, resumed and back dividends. In the month of November alone the number of corporations taking favorable dividend action was close to 200, as against less than one-tenth of that number which took unfavorable dividend action.

New York, Dec. 16.—Stocks drifted steadily lower today in one of the duller markets Wall street has seen since the dog days of last summer. Sales for the five hour session amounted to only 2,584,800 shares.

Leading issues were off from 2 to 8 points at the close.

The market was exceedingly thin throughout and prices declined not from bear attacks or heavy liquidation, but simply from want of buying support. With Christmas only a few days away, the rank and file of traders—at any rate only of them as went through the October

Hogs yesterday recovered full half of Saturday's loss in spite of the largest receipts of the season, while a bulge in the market carried lambs to the highest level since middle of September.

Brisk demand for Christmas beef steers held top cattle prices in line with the highest point of last week, some long yearlings at the extreme top being highest for the weight this month. There was a good clearance in all classes, with some orders for hogs "short" at the finish.

A total of 76,000 hogs were unloaded in Chicago yesterday, the largest since Jan. 21 and largest for December since the record of 127,745 was established on Dec. 15, 1924.

Many Billed Direct.
Approximately 48,000 were billed direct to packers from other points, leaving less than 28,000 on the market, with a brisk competition for better grades at 10 to 15c higher prices.

The extreme top moved up 10c at 9:30, while the average showed 6c advance at 9:30, comparing with top of $9.50 and average of $9.40 last Friday, which was equal to the highest day in recent weeks.

Outside orders were among the largest of the season, taking about 10,000 hogs, while smaller local packers and city butchers bought 11,000. The three larger houses handled 81,000, including direct, the largest number of the season.

Cattle receipts at 16,000 were small for Monday since early in August, a logical sequence to last week's washing of prices. There was a decrease of 44,000 at the 29 leading markets. A healthier undertone was noticeable directly after the opening, and plucky gains were scored in top kinds, suitable for the Christmas trade next week. Prime 1,045 to 1,145 lb yearlings reached $16.00, the day's peak and highest for the weight since Nov. 23, when "show" steers sold higher. Christmas specialties at one of the river markets were reported at $17.00 yesterday. Cows and heifers sold mostly steady, baby beef heifers reaching $14.25. Calves were mostly steady. Stockers and feeders were scarce and strong.

Lambs Reach $13.85.
The shortage in yesterday's sheep receipts brought buyers on the market earlier than usual with larger orders than on recent seasons. Arrivals at 16,000 were smallest for Monday in six weeks, and compared with 23,621 a week ago.

Good grades were scarce and advanced 15 to 25c, bringing the extreme top to $13.85, which shows $1.10 advance since the low spot of last month. Prevailing quotations are $14.00 below 9 year ago, but stand above 1927 and 1928. The break in aged sheep prices was halted yesterday and old ewes sold at $7.75 with aged wethers at $7.00 and two year olds at $8.00. Yearlings were firm at $10.35. Little change was noted in the condition of the feeding lamb market with best grades quoted at $12.00 to $12.50.

NOV. EXPORTS FROM U. S. TOTAL 448 MILLIONS
Washington, D. C., Dec. 16.—(AP)—Exports from the United States during November amounted to $448,000,000, as compared with $444,912,000 in the same month of last year.

For the eleven months' period ending last month exports had last year by a substantial margin, this year's total of $4,520,447,000 contrasting with a 1928 total of $4,352,512,000. Imports for November were $109,000,000 below exports, totaling $339,000,000, as compared with $334,365,000 in the corresponding month of 1928. For the eleven months' period imports totaled $4,090,043,000, against $3,752,026,000 last year.

The flow of gold abroad continued during November, exports totaling $20,285,000, as contrasted with imports of only $7,122,000. For November, 1928, exports amounted to $22,916,000, against heavier imports of $29,591,000.

LARD MARKET EASY

An easy tone was on in the lard market yesterday, with commission house selling and packing interests credited with doing most of the buying. Hog supplies here were in excess of estimates and prices steady to 10c lower, with the run at western points larger than a week and a year ago. Liverpool lard was $6.45 lower and prices in Chicago closed 5 to 7 1/2c lower, the latter on May. Exports of lard for the week were 18,429,000 lbs. and of bacon 5,259,800 lbs. Last year lard exports were 18,583,000 lbs. and bacon 5,254,400 lbs.

Trading in bellies was light and January lost 2 1/2c, while May gained 2 1/2c.

Lard stocks in Chicago, as shown by the semi-monthly statement, are 23,829,450 lbs., against 24,712,824 lbs. Dec. 1 and 29,486,163 lbs. Dec. 15 last year. Prices follow:

FOREMAN-STATE BANK OPENS IN NEW QUARTERS

Announce Formation of Securities Affiliate.

In every available space on the main banking floor, the vaults, and the other seven floors occupied by the bank.

Officials of most of the big Chicago banks, heads of corporations, and members of the executive committee, Har- ing E. Foreman, chairman; Oscar H. Foreman, vice chairman, and Walter W. Head, president. These officers also received a flood of telegrams expressing congratulations on the opening of the new building and physical merger of the Foreman banks and the state bank of Chicago, thus forming the third largest Chicago bank.

Despite the throng of visitors, all departments of the bank maintained their usual business schedules. The transfer of more than a billion dollars in cash and securities, the books, and furnishings of the Foreman banks and the State Bank of Chicago from their former quarters to the new building was accomplished over Saturday and Sunday.

Will Derive $64,000,000.

One of the largest pieces of public utility financing in recent months will make its appearance today. An additional issue of 100,000 shares of Standard Gas and Electric company 44 cumulative preferred stock will be offered publicly at $64.50 a share by H. M. Byllesby & Co.

Approximately $64,000,000 to be derived from the offering will be used by Standard Gas and Electric to finance its big expansion program for next year and for investments in its subsidiary and affiliated companies. The system now serves 1,654 cities and towns in twenty states, having an estimated total population of 6,100,000.

Thus far, the collapse of the stock market has had little adverse effect on industrial employment, according to data made public by the department of labor yesterday. While employment declined 3.1 per cent in November, compared with October, and pay rolls receded 6.3 per cent, these recessions were largely seasonal. Compared with November, 1928, employment was down only six-tenths of 1 per cent and pay rolls declined only 1 per cent.

STOCKS DRIFT LOWER IN DULL DAY OF TRADING

Leading Issues Drop from
2 to 8 Points.

November selling storm—evidently had something to think about besides new share commitments.

Prices Open Lower.

Opening prices were irregularly lower, most of the changes, however, being fractional. Some improvement was noted in the middle of the morning but from then until well into the final hour the drift was downward. Bulls made a half-hearted attempt to start a rally shortly before the close but their little "push" succeeded only in precipitating a fresh selling movement and the final figures in a large proportion of cases were not much above the lows of the day.

News bearing on the speculative situation was more or less mixed and what there was of a bullish tinge went for naught. Announcement of the plans of the United States Steel corporation for spending approximately $300,000,000 in improvements and plant betterments during the next three years not only failed to stimulate buying of the company's stock, but was the signal for considerable selling. The closing sale on the stock was 18 1/2, which represented a net loss on the day's operations of 7 1/2 points.

Another announcement which failed to find reflection in buying was that made by the Fox Film management that the next three years not only failed to stimulate buying of the company's stock, but was the signal for considerable selling. The closing sale on the stock was 18 1/2, which represented a net loss on the day's operations of 7 1/2 points.

Railway shares were rather heavily sold throughout the day indicating a degree of disappointment in speculative circles over the failure of the interstate commerce commission to announce its new merger plan over the week-end as anticipated.

Few issues of the group escaped the pressure. Losses in the group ranged from 2 to more than 6 points. New York Central was off 5 1/2 points at the close, Union Pacific 5 1/2, C. & O. 2, Baltimore and Ohio 3 1/2, and New Haven 4 1/2 points.

The street heard that the much discussed plan is not likely to be made public now before the end of the year. However, those familiar with the situation say there is no cause for alarm. They hold to the belief that in the long run consolidations will be a point in market values on the basis of voluntary alignments.

U. S. STEEL MAKES OFFER FOR ATLAS CEMENT CO. STOCK

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

New York, Dec. 16.—As a result of the proposed acquisition of the Atlas Portland Cement company, the United States Steel corporation may become the largest production interest in the Portland cement industry of the United States. The purchase of the Atlas company would give the steel corporation an aggregate capacity of 56,500,000 barrels annually.

Operations of the Atlas company will be merged into the Universal Portland Cement company, which is the cement subsidiary of the steel corporation, according to the plan. Atlas and Universal are among the four largest cement producers in the country. By combining these two organizations, it was pointed out today, the steel corporation will become the most powerful factor in the cement industry.

Atlas stockholders have been informed by their company of the United States Steel corporation's offer to take over the assets of the cement concern in exchange for 150,000 shares of steel stock valued at $31,320,000.

In exchange for the stock the steel corporation would acquire the $22,213,000 of common stock of the Atlas company, together with its entire assets and good will. The preferred stock of the company was retained by Atlas and there is no bonded indebtedness.

A special meeting of stockholders has been called for Dec. 23 to ratify the agreement.

OPEN EXCHANGE DEVOTED TO REAL ESTATE ISSUES

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

New York, Dec. 16.—The New York real estate securities exchange was opened with little formality at 3 o'clock this afternoon by Peter Grimm, chairman of its board of governors. Mr. Grimm presided a bell three times and a moment later the big board at the end of the room recorded the purchase of a $1,000 bond of the Real Estate Bond building by William H. Class.

The transaction was the first ever made on an exchange devoted exclusively to the sale of real estate securities. As outlined by Cyrus C. Miller, president of the exchange, at a luncheon at the Biltmore which preceded the opening, the object of the new institution is to give owners of real estate securities a ready market, to assure buyers of reasonable stability and to bring fluid resources into the real estate business. Besides Mr. Miller, ex-Governor Alfred E. Smith spoke at the luncheon.

"This exchange will give every one an opportunity to make a profit from the growth of New York," Mr. Smith said. "This has heretofore been in the hands of a few people."

The Western Union Telegraph company announced that it was nothing in the economic situation to interfere with its plan to distribute $2,000,000 in merit increases in 1930.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

New York, Dec. 16.—Plans for the merger of independent steel companies of the middle west, by which it is expected that an organization with combined assets in excess of $500,000,000 will be created, have reached an advanced stage and will be announced within a few days.

The full scope of the consolidation may not be disclosed in the preliminary announcement, although negotiations are under way affecting a half dozen or more important companies. The merger, considered for many months, is being sponsored by the Eaton-Otis-Mather financial interests, headed by Cyrus S. Eaton, Cleveland capitalist. The consolidated company would rival in size the Bethlehem Steel corporation, which is now the second largest unit in the industry, ranking next to the United States Steel corporation.

Among the companies expected to be merged are the Republic Iron and Steel company, the Youngstown Sheet and Tube company, the Inland Steel company, the McKinnon Steel company, the Central Alloy Steel company, the Inland Steel company, and possibly others.

Union Tobacco May

Continue as Holding Co.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

The proposal on which the stockholders will be asked to act is the surrender of leases which the Union company holds on various brands and formulas to the American Tobacco company. These leases cover all brands marketed by the Union company, and the surrender would mean its retirement from the tobacco business.

TIME MONEY FIRMER; BOND PRICES EASE

More Interest Shown in

New York, Dec. 16.—(AP)—Slightly firmer tendencies in the time money market curtailed trading in an already dull bond list today and many of the closing prices showed small net declines. Liberties, treasuries, and the first grade rails, however, met enough support to hold quotations steady, although it was apparent that large customers were making only limited inquiries for these prime investment loans.

Much of the interest was in the direction of new financing, both immediate and prospective.

Several developments were reported in the foreign field. It was learned that an $8,000,000 loan for the Province of Buenos Aires, the first piece of South American financing in months, had been arranged for notation this week. The bonds, due in 1931, will bear 6 1/2 per cent coupons. Advances from Vienna reported that plans for a $100,000,000 international loan by Austria were making progress, while the city of Montreal announced that it would receive bids for a $15,300,000 long term bond issue.

Convertible offerings on the downward movement of stocks, but activity in the share privilege group was unimpressive. Losses of 1 to 4 points were reported on several issues.

Developed on desultory dealings in American Telephone 4 1/2s, American I. G. Chemical 5 1/4s, Atchafalca 4 1/2s, International Telephone 4 1/2s, New Haven 6s, and American International 5 1/2s. Chicago and North Western 4 1/2s and Texas corporation 5s were undisturbed by the selling tendency.

DAWES CHEERS REALTORS WITH BUILDING VIEWS

Optimistic for Future of Chicago.

BY AL CHASE.

Ref. C. Dawes, president of Chicago's next winter fair, painted a cheerful word picture of this city's building progress, which brought applause from a thousand or more realtors at the 47th annual banquet of the Chicago real estate board last night at the Palmer house. He predicted that during the next ten years an amount of new buildings required will be about 10 per cent of the space of buildings now in use.

Mr. Dawes quoted from the recent survey made by Postmaster Lester's carriers and declared that the building industry has grounds for confidence and courage.

And, incidentally, Mr. Dawes had this to say about Chicago's always "in my subject, 'The Progress of Chicago,' I would say in a word that the progress of Chicago depends upon the solution of the transportation problem."

"Doesn't Fear Overbuilding." Mr. Dawes intimated that no one need fear any overbuilding by pointing out that the 1931 fair did not produce as much construction. He stated that new buildings in Chicago for seven years after the fair was larger than any amount constructed seven years after the fair in just about the ratio of the increased population.

The recent stock market slump, according to Mr. Dawes, has cleared the air and enabled the builder to see things in their correct perspective.

"It is encouraging not only to the building industry, but to all industries, that the stock which has been undervalued and dreaded so long has at last," he said, "and we have an opportunity to gauge more accurately the business conditions than is possible for us to do before this slump."

Preceded Stock Crash. "The building industry also possesses this advantage, that its period of liquidation preceded the liquidation in the stock market, and there has been a period not only for readjustment but for the occupation of buildings previously erected."

"In Chicago in the last ten years we have built more new space than there is in existence in hotels, theaters, schools, office buildings and apartment houses, not to mention the churches and individual homes, but just as much in individual homes if the suburbs are included."

"This is not a sudden spurt. It is the result of a steady increase in the rate of erecting new buildings, and has been in effect since 1910. It can be said with as much accuracy as in any prediction as to the future that over a period of the next ten years upon the average the amount of new buildings to be required will be about 10 per cent of the space of buildings now in use."

"It can only be added that the variation from this average will not exceed 1 or 2 per cent under or over, and is whether in Chicago there is to be an expenditure more or less than this average during the coming year must depend upon the local conditions."

Professor Hallman on Realty. Ralph C. Hallman, dean of the college of commerce of Northwestern university, spoke on "Realty and the Investor." Albert W. Swaine, president of the Chicago Real Estate board, told of what that body had done in 1929. Gen. Abel Davis was toastmaster.

Prof. Hallman said a new type of real estate investment is needed if realty is to assume its rightful place as an investment opportunity.

"There is need today for a type of realty investment which will permit investors, large and small, to pool their resources, and which will enable them to profit through diversification of holdings, expert management, modern methods of financing and participation in the ownership and appreciation of properties and systems."

"The forms of real estate investment in common use now don't meet these tests. The result can be brought about only through a modification of the Illinois corporation law or through the introduction of the investment trust principle in the real estate field."

ELECTRIC FIRM TO ERECT GARAGE AT HAWTHORNE

Construction is to start shortly on a large garage at the Hawthorne yards of the Western Electric company. The structure will be 176 feet long and will have a single span of 112 feet. It will have a capacity of thirty passenger cars and fifty-two trucks and trailers. The present garage, occupying some 6,000 square feet of floor space, will be used for manufacturing purposes. The H. W. Ferguson company of Cleveland has the general contract.

P. Smith Jr., consists of 100x150 feet of vacant land on the west side of Blackstone avenue, 250 feet south of 58th street.

A Few More Wheelbarrows

YOU would probably be surprised if an engineer, coming into your plant to improve its operation, instead of recommending the purchase of a complete new outfit of conveying machinery, told you to buy a half dozen wheelbarrows. Not long ago we made such a recommendation.

But when we later drew plans for additional buildings to increase this plant's capacity, we then provided for the installation of mechanical conveying equipment, for with the increased production, machinery would show a profit over muscle.

Our recommendations for reducing your manufacturing costs will never over-mechanize your plant.

FARM BOARD'S PROMISE OF AID ADVANCES WHEAT

Foreign Cash Wheat Demand Seen Improving.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.
The federal farm board has not given up its belief that wheat values will ultimately advance. An announcement that it was willing to loan almost unlimited amounts of money to cooperatives to be released to farmers to hold grain back in the country on the previously announced basis of $1.25 for No. 1 northern at Minneapolis, and $1.15 for No. 1 hard winter at Chicago, despite the fact that prices at Minneapolis had dropped below that figure, led to a general short covering movement in futures.

Prices advanced 2 1/2¢ over the low point, and the close was about the top with net gains of 2 1/2¢. A much better foreign demand for cash wheat with upwards of 1,000,000 bu sold in all positions, including hard winters to the continent had some effect on sentiment which was much less bearish than of late. There was also a decrease of $12,000 in the domestic visible, whereas many operators had anticipated an increase. Total stocks are 181,977,000 bu, against 124,289,000 bu last year.

Less Pressure on Futures.
There was no material pressure on the future market except for a brief period when locals sold on a heavy close in Liverpool, but when the farm board statement reached the trade general buying developed, headed by houses with eastern connection offerings were not large. Selling against offers checked the upturn. Liverpool closed unchanged to 1/4¢ lower. At one time Liverpool May was around 10¢ over Chicago, but at the last the difference was only 9 1/4¢. Winnipeg was strong and gained 2 1/2¢, while Buenos Aires closed unchanged to 1 1/4¢ higher and Rosario was up 1/2¢.

Wheat yields in southern Buenos Aires and in the Pampean district of Argentina have been materially reduced by rust and hot winds, according to a private cable, and the estimate of around 200,000,000 bu for that country was regarded as too high. Supplies on ocean passage were reduced 2,432,000 bu during the last week, and are down to 25,664,000 bu, against 24,914,000 bu last year.

Corn Market Firmer.
Unfavorable weather continues over the corn belt, and country offerings to arrive remain small. This, with the strength in wheat brought in fair buying of corn futures and prices advanced and closed with net gains of 1/4¢ to 1/2¢. Reports were received during the day indicating that quality of the grain still unharmed in the fields was less favorable than a while ago, and for persistent wet weather, and the forecast was for rain or snow over a wide area. Cash corn basis was steady to 1/4¢ lower with the poor showing the decline. An increase of 1,232,000 bu in the visible supply raised the total to 1,239,000 bu, against 12,071,000 bu last year.

Local operators were the best buyers of oats, and with strength in other grains more than offset scattered liquidation by longs. The close was 1/4¢ to 1/2¢ higher. The visible supply increased 121,000 bu for the week.

Shorts were on the buying side of rye, and the close was 1/4¢ to 1/2¢ higher with December leading. Deliveries

DISOWNS STATEMENT

Washington, D. C., Dec. 16.—(AP)—On learning that wheat prices on the Chicago exchange had risen after publication of a so-called "official statement" from the farm board that wheat prices "shall advance," Chairman Legge of the board said today that he was glad prices had risen, but he disavowed for the board the authority of any such statement. He said that any advance in wheat prices was pleasing, but that no official statement about wheat had been made by the board.

COTTON PRICES DECLINE

Cotton markets were under pressure yesterday, particularly New York, from local liquidation, hedging from Liverpool and a little from the south, while the continent bought on the break. Trading in all was of fair volume, values declining irregularly and closing about the lowest, with losses in Chicago of 17 to 20 points and in other markets 14 to 22 points. Liverpool closed 3 to 4 points net lower, with spot sales 5,000 bales.

BUTTER OFF SHARPLY

Butter futures continued to slump on the Chicago mercantile exchange with the New York market showing a similar decline. The decline was due to the fact of favorable figures on storage movements in the four markets that showed withdrawals of 179,078 pounds as against a net movement in last year of 3,769 pounds. The operator was firm, but selling pressure developed and later trading was at the sharp lower levels. Sales were 200 cars, with receipts of 5,465 cases. December close dipped 90¢ a car in light trading. Prices followed:

WORLD'S GRAIN MARKET NEWS

An upturn in all the grain markets was overdue, with the shorts the best buyers, owing to a bullish construction placed on latest announcements by the head of the federal farm board. Absence of selling pressure was particularly noticeable during the day and sentiment at the close favored a further upturn, although a great deal will depend upon the action of the Liverpool market. The recent decline has resulted in better export buying, but failure of the visible supply to show a substantial reduction was disappointing to the bulls.

With wheat prices down to or below the level where the federal farm board is willing to make loans, $1.18 Chicago and $1.25 in Minneapolis, there is a disposition on the part of traders to go slow on the short side.

"With the shortage that has so far been estimated in the southern hemisphere's wheat crop, it would seem apparent that foreign consumers must come to North America for wheat supplies on a larger scale in the near future," says J. E. Bennett. "After the first of the year some enlargement in the flour demand is looked for. We feel that the situation is somewhat more encouraging to holders."

WORLD'S GRAIN MARKET NEWS

An upturn in all the grain markets was overdue, with the shorts the best buyers, owing to a bullish construction placed on latest announcements by the head of the federal farm board. Absence of selling pressure was particularly noticeable during the day and sentiment at the close favored a further upturn, although a great deal will depend upon the action of the Liverpool market. The recent decline has resulted in better export buying, but failure of the visible supply to show a substantial reduction was disappointing to the bulls.

HUGHES GIVES YEARS TO FIN SEWAGE PLAN

Reports on Chicago Water Contests

BY ARTHUR CRAWFORD
(Chicago Tribune Staff Writer)
Washington, D. C., Dec. 17 (AP).—Completion of a 174 mile sewerage treatment program for Chicago sanitary district with years would be required under a decree recommended by the Supreme court United States by Charles E. Hughes.

Successive reductions in the amount of water from Lake Michigan to Chicago from 8,500 cubic feet per second to 8,000, then to 7,500, and finally upon the completion of the sewerage treatment works would be further reduced under Mr. Hughes' plan. These figures are exact pumpage for domestic purposes amounts to about 1,500 feet.

While sanitary district officials asked for a period of fifteen years for the completion of the treatment works and had such a drastic reduction in water, Mr. Hughes suggested lenient terms than were urged by complainants in the case.

As Favorable As Expected
In the light of the adverse of the Supreme court of last year which held that there is no law for diversion of water by a comparatively small amount for navigation in the Chicago River, the Hughes report was being about as favorable to the city as could have been expected.

Mr. Hughes made it clear within the power of Congress to provide for a greater diversion of water for navigation purposes. It appears that if Congress approves the state waterway as a federal project, the way will be opened for a diversion of water to maintain a minimum of a nine foot channel in a nine foot channel from Chicago to the Mississippi.

Whether congressional action of the Illinois waterway the secretary of war authorizes the necessary diversion without express legislation subject is disputed. It is that a diversion of from 1,500 feet will be necessary for the way, although opponents of water diversion insist that it can be maintained with a diversion of not more than 2,000 feet.

Representative Beck's Opposition
Representative James H. Beck (Rep., Pa.), former solicitor of the United States, who was the Chicago sanitary district, said the master's report was substantially in line with the wishes of the Chicago attorneys.

"I have not yet had the entire report," he said. "But as far as I know, it seems to me to be largely the contentions of the sanitarians and I argued in the sanitary district."

"While it does not wholly full diversion was asked for, master has sustained our position. The court should have decided in order that if, at any feature of the case, through unforeseen circumstances, it may be impossible or inequitable, the court may make a modification."

"It is significant that the court's decision is a clear determination of the division, and as we delegated this authority to the state and the Chicago sanitarians, it would seem that recommended so far as the court is concerned is still within the power of the department."

Legislation Required
Mr. Beck explained that he thought the secretary of war has power to change the diversion allowed from the of navigation requirements on the river this would not navigation requirements for the gulf waterway in the of legislation.

It is expected that a court order a decree in the court is now in recess and convenes on Jan. 6. If it does to present arguments, Hughes' recommendations may permit this to be done.

The master's report was filed by Mr. Hughes with the clerk of the court, dated March 3, 1929. The present permit of the of war, issued March 3, 1929. (Continued on page 4.)
